Everything Is Go For Grand Motor Show

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

Ray Scarpelli, Jr., chairman of the second annual RV, Boat, and Auto Show sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, said that he expects "about 450 million visitors this weekend, but I will be satisfied with 10,000."

Scheduled to run from June 13 through June 15 in the Antioch Community High School parking lot, organizers are in the last stages of preparation for the show.

"The show will be a lot of fun this year," Scarpelli said. "We will have entertainment going throughout the weekend and we have 14 exhibitors."

Opening ceremonies will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Friday, June 13, at the Antioch High School parking lot. The Dancin' Machine I will provide entertainment from 7-9 p.m. on the evening of Friday, June 13. WXLC will conduct its Traveling Radio Show, broadcasting live from the event, on Saturday afternoon, June 14. On Sunday, June 15, a pop band will perform many of the hit songs from the present and years past to close out the show. Sunny the Bird, a relative of the San Diego Chicken, will be on hand all three days to entertain the children.

Scarpelli said that hot dogs, ice cream, and soft drinks will be available at the show. "But if people want something more, we have many fine restaurants ranging from fast food to sit-down service right here in Antioch," he added.

Exhibitors at the show include: Fox Lake Harbor; All Seasons Camping of Elmhurst; Lyons-Ryan Ford; Haling's Resort; Pedersen GMC; Countryside RV Sales of Grayslake; First National Bank of Antioch; Don Pittman Motors; State Bank of Antioch; Bank of Waukegan; Raymond Chevy-Olds, Inc.; Sequoia Harbor Marina; Sailboats, Inc. of Fox Lake; and Portside Marina of Fox Lake.

Hours of the show are: Friday, June 13, 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday, June 14, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Sunday, June 15, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Chamber President Larry Hanson invites people to come visit the show and to visit the "many fine shops" in Antioch, as well.

Recruit Zoephel

Antioch High School football standout, James Zoephel, has been successfully recruited by the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater as a defensive back.

The 6' 1", 185 lb. player made the first team, all-conference, and was given an honorable mention on the all-county team while a member of the football Sequoits. He was named the team's Most Valuable Player in his senior year. During the regular season, he returned three kickoffs for touchdowns.

Zoephel plans to major in business administration.

Commission Haviland

Dean Haviland of Antioch was one of 15 Air Force ROTC cadets commissioned as second lieutenants following graduation from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Brig. Gen. Paul A. Harvey, chief of staff of the military airlift command headquarters at Scott Air Force Base, spoke to the commissioning class and conferred rank on the cadets.

Haviland, who earned his degree in aviation management, has been assigned to Williams Air Force Base in Chandler, Ariz., for training as a pilot.

He is the son of Michael and Rosemary Haviland of Antioch.

Theatre Donors

Rotarians Are Gunning Their Engines For Race

Gentlemen, start your engines!

That will be the cry on Friday night, June 13, at the Wilmot Speedway as the Antioch Rotary begins its fourth annual Scholarship Race. Located at the Kenosha County Fairgrounds in Wilmot, the Wilmot Speedway will play host to as motley a crew of racers as have ever hit the tracks when the Rotary drivers show up.

More accustomed to fighting off early morning road hogs than high speed race drivers, all the drivers in this race are either Rotarians, Rotarians' spouses, or friends of Rotarians. Since no Antioch Rotarian is friends with Al Unser, organizers expect the race to provide as much in the way of amusement for spectators as it does in excitement.

It is all for a worthy cause, though. Funds from the race are used annually to provide scholarships for deserving students from Antioch Community High School.

The gates will open at 7 p.m. and the first race will begin at 8 p.m. Among the scheduled contests are a President's Race between the presidents of the Lion's Club and the Rotary, truck races, stock car races, a powder puff derby for the ladies, and other events.

Tickets are $4 each. Children under 12 will be admitted free of charge. Tickets can be purchased at the State Bank of Antioch, First National Bank of Antioch, Bank of Waukegan-Antioch Facility, or from any Rotary member.

Rotary President Paul Pavelsky urges people to come out and have some fun while supporting a good cause.

Seek Beauty Contestants

Applications for the Miss Antioch contest are now available at the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. and may be picked up between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

In order to enter, a woman must be 16 before July 4 and must not be 22 before January 1, 1987. She must also have a 395 telephone pre-fix, have never been married, and have no children. Deadline for entries is June 25.

For further information, call Glenda Tomaschik at (312) 395-2160.

Plan Gospel Music Concert

The Spirit of Life Singers will present a live concert of traditional and contemporary Christian music on Sunday, June 15, at 6:30 p.m. at the Christian Life Fellowship Church, 389 Lake St., Antioch. Each song will also be interpreted in sign language.

The group is composed of eight vocalists, a singer, and technical staff. The members come from diverse denominational backgrounds and careers.

Since its inception in 1978, the ensemble has been a self-supporting, non-profit, musical extension of Spirit of Life Ministries in Lake Villa. Auditions are held after each local concert for future talent.

Schedule Set For Summer

Summer school at Antioch Community High School will begin on Thursday, June 19, and continue through Friday, Aug. 1. Tuition for classes is $44 per semester course (half credit), $22 for quarter credit classes, and $55 for co-op courses (full credit). Students may enroll in a maximum of two semester courses during the summer.

Students must pay their tuition in full at the time of registration. All outstanding debts to the school must be paid before registration will be permitted.

The administration advises that students who are planning vacations while summer school is in session should not enroll.

Woody Kelly's Whereabouts Still Mystery Year Later

by GLORIA DAVIS

On the morning of June 8, 1985, Woodruff Kelly was known to his family, friends and business associates as a happy family man who had made himself a millionaire by investing wisely in a relatively short period of time.

That afternoon he allegedly disappeared from

Woodruff Kelly

Dean's List

Bradley University, Peoria, has announced its Dean's List for the 1986 spring semester. Lakeland area residents named to the list include: Cherie-Noel Wiltse and David Witek, Antioch; Mark W. Duykers, Crystal Lake; Deborah S. Bury and Richard W. Oleson, Gurnee; Terri L. Olenick and Elaine C. Robbins, McHenry; Eric P. Gist, Janice L. Innocenzi, and James R. Stuhlmacher, Mundelein; Lavita M. Waldon, North Chicago; and Frank D. Doyle, Wauconda.

a boat on Lake Michigan, somewhere between Kenosha and Waukegan Harbors. He was reportedly trying the boat out in lieu of purchase for one of his many marine interests.

Did "Woody," as he was more widely known, slip, fall off the boat and drown, suffer a heart attack and drown, meet death at the hands of a third party, or did he just fake a disappearance and take off with what was left of the $6 million he failed to invest for his clients?

Those were the questions being asked right after Kelly's disappearance and the same ones are still being asked although, outlying being dumped in the lake in a box filled with weights, authorities have all but ruled out the bottom of Lake Michigan in the search for Kelly's whereabouts.

After intensive investigation by the Lake County State's Attorney's office with no result except the revealing of the lack of any evidence of investments being made by Kelly, the case was turned over to the U.S. Attorney's office with a charge of mail fraud in connection with the selling of stocks, being made against Kelly.

All of the Kelly family's worldly possessions, his yachts, his mansion in Salem, his many automobiles, etc. were repossessed by the mortgage holders. The home has been sold, so have the cars and the boats.

Reportedly his family was left practically penniless. His wife is allegedly living in an apartment in the near-northern suburb and working there, one of the sons is in college in Florida and the rest of the family has all broken apart.

Federal agents will only say that the search for Kelly is continuing. At the time of the turnover of the case, Lake County authorities said they thought Kelly was somewhere in the Caribbean and possibly using his nautical knowledge to visit his son, etc., by entering the Florida Keys of which he was very knowledgeable.

There are still a few people in the Antioch area, where Kelly was very popular and active in the community, who vocally still miss Kelly and would welcome his return with open arms.

His family at last reports was still mourning his drowning in Lake Michigan.

But there's a large number of former investors, some who lost their life savings, that would welcome Kelly in a different way.

Lions Recognize Top Athletes At School

The Antioch Lions, with the cooperation of the Antioch Community High School administration and athletic department, awarded two $400 scholarships to the Outstanding Boy and Girl Senior Athletes. The club and the athletic department have been concerned with the dwindling attendance at the formal Annual Athletic Banquet sponsored by the club for over 40 years. Both the club officers and the high school administration felt that the money spent on a formal banquet, which was poorly attended, could better be spent helping two deserving athletes with scholarships.

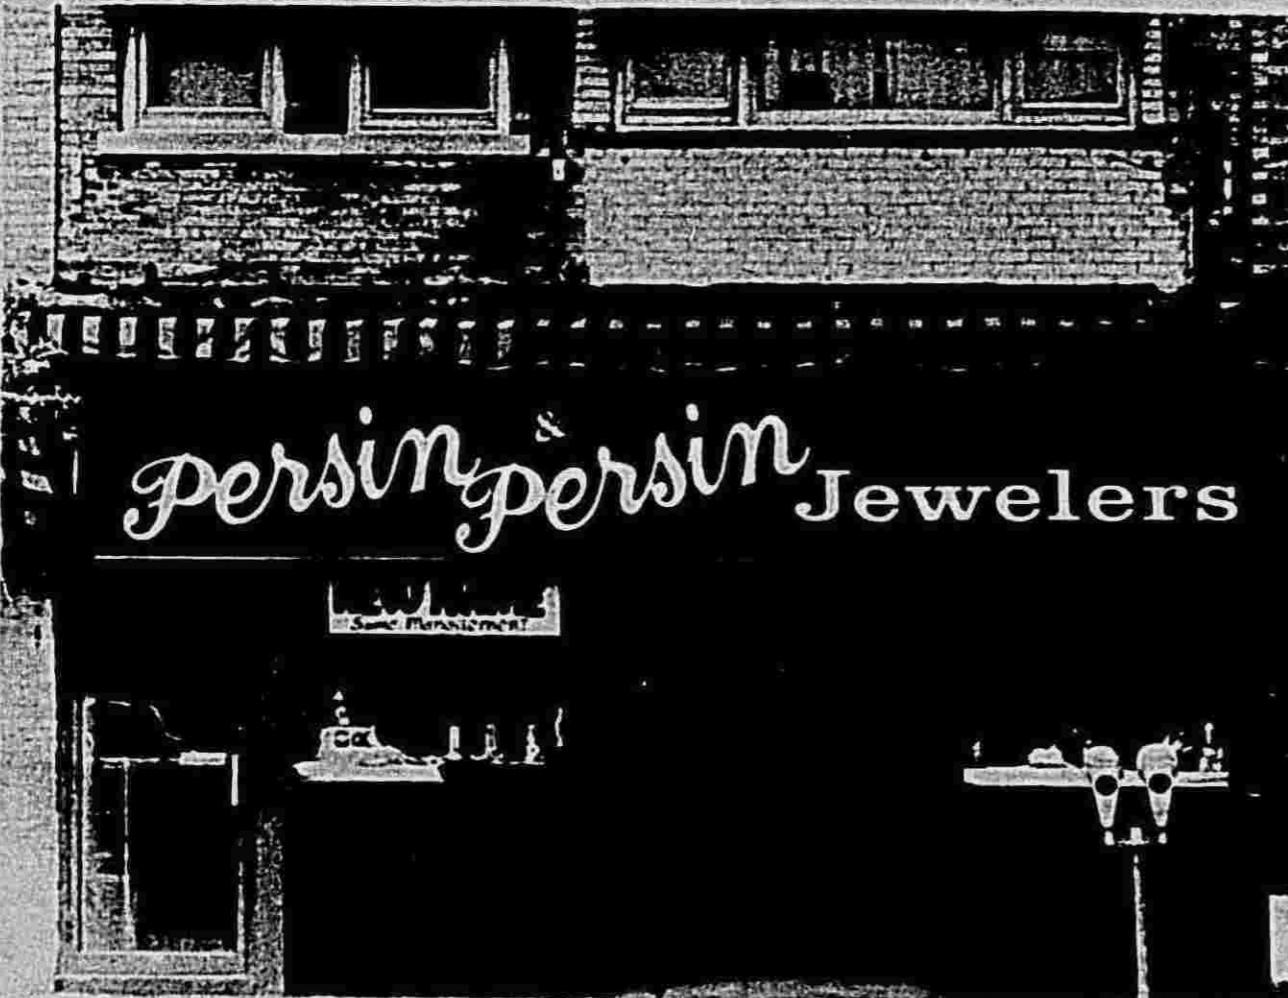

The club gave the awards at the spring awards program. The following MVP's were recognized by their coaches: Jill Johnson, golf; Shannon Gooch, volleyball and basketball; Holly Smith, field hockey; Maria Maravelas, tennis; Vicki Weber, cross country; Greg Werba, soccer; Rich Korpjek, golf; John Staerk, cross country; Jamie Zoepf, football; Chris Johnson, gymnastics; Renee Hallwas, bowling; Bob Johnson, wrestling; Don Gunther, basketball; Kim Barbour, soccer; Denise Maple, softball; Erika Jung, track; Pat Bruks, tennis; Mike Galdine, baseball; and Tom Durell, track.

The following seniors were nominees for Outstanding Senior Cheerleaders and Athletes: Kris Christensen and Tammy VanderMeer, cheerleading; Kim Alfano, Chris Eberman, Shannon Gooch, Jeri Gutowski, Dori Harp, and Denise Maple, Outstanding Senior Girl Athletes; Pat Bruks, Don Gunther, Bob Johnson, John Staerk, Shawn Wiltse, and Jamie Zoepf, Outstanding Boy Athletes. All of these seniors were recognized and awarded miniature trophies by Arthur Blecke and Ward Lear. Marie Gedville gave the Outstanding Cheerleader award to Tammy VanderMeer.

John Wolf, representing the Lions Club, awarded a plaque and the scholarship awards to Shannon Gooch and Bob Johnson, the Outstanding Senior Athletes from Antioch Community High School for 1986.

After the special awards the parents and athletes moved to various areas of the building for the spring athletic awards made by the spring coaches. Four hundred parents, athletes, and coaches attended awards night, which ended with refreshments and fellowship in the cafeteria.

New Name, Same Game

Persin and Persin Jewelers is holding a re-grand opening in June. Though they bought the store two years ago, the Persins kept the name, 'Hahn Jewelers' until people got familiar with them. Celebration of the re-grand opening will culminate with a drawing for a diamond ring valued at $1,000.

Persin And Persin Adds A Personal Touch To Jewelry

After operating for two years under the name of a former owner (Hahn Jewelers), Julian and Susan Persin have put up their own name on their jewelry store at 913 Main St. in Antioch.

With a wry smile towards his wife, Julian said, "My wife's name comes first on the sign." It says, "Persin & Persin Jewelers."

"People were comfortable with Hahn for many years and we wanted to give them time to get used to us," Julian said. "Now the people have gotten to know us, so it is the right time to put up our own name."

With the wide array of gift ideas the shop offers, perhaps it should be called a jewelry and gift emporium. Besides the traditional jewelry and timepieces, Persin and Persin has a fine selection of silver, pewter, fine china, crystal, vases, figurines, brass, and artistically designed albums.

"We carry something to match the budget of anyone," Susan said with a cheery smile. "A child can come in with $5 looking for a Mother's Day gift and we will have a selection of tasteful items to choose from. Of course, you can spend thousands of dollars for some of our best quality items."

Julian added, "We also carry several exclusive lines, such as Lladro figurines. We will soon have a select line of Waterford Crystal, considered by most to be the best crystal available."

Perhaps the reason that artistic displays are so important to these owners is because Julian has such a strong artistic bent, himself: he custom designs and manufactures jewelry. He was quick to point out that this service does not cost as much as people might think. "For about the same as you would pay for any fine piece of jewelry, you can get something custom-designed here to meet your specific tastes," Julian said, "and the nice thing about a custom-designed piece is that it is one of a kind. After we make it, there will never be another one just like it. So there is a special, personal touch added to a custom-designed piece."

All purchases made in the store are custom gift-wrapped. For people purchasing a gift for someone out of the area, the Persins will mail the gift anywhere in the country, thus taking the worry and aggravation out of that process. "We try to do everything possible to make it a pleasurable experience to shop in our store," Susan said.

To celebrate the change of the store's name, the month of June will be a re-grand opening. A 25 per cent discount is being offered on everything in the store, except Lladro figurines which are being discounted by 10 per cent. A drawing for a diamond ring, valued at $1,000, will also be held in June.

The Persins invited everyone in the community to stop in and celebrate the re-grand opening with them in June.

Hillview Files Second Appeal

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

To dump or not to dump.

That is the question that will face the Illinois Pollution Control Board as they hear not one, but two appeals from Hillview Farms on previous permit denials for the application of sludge at the farm.

The earlier denials both came from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) after hearing testimony from representatives of Hillview, local residents, local governments, and the Illinois Attorney General's office.

About the only people who have spoken in favor of issuing the permit are Arnold May, owner of Hillview Farms, and Abbott Laboratories, Hillview's major source of sludge.

Opposition to issuance of a permit has not only been well-organized, it has also had the near unanimous support of every major governmental entity in the area. Supporting the effort to deny a permit have been the villages of Richmond, Spring Grove, Sunnyside, Genoa City, and Twin Lakes; the townships of Burton, Richmond, Randall, and McHenry; The McHenry County Board; the McHenry County Dept. of Health; and the Illinois Atty. General's office.

Opponents claim that May has been violating the conditions of his permit since 1971 and that these violations have resulted in overloading the soil with nitrates (which pose a health hazard to children, pregnant women, and livestock) and have caused an offensive odor to frequently permeate the area during the summer.

In his statement, Atty. Gen. Hartigan said that Hillview "has not and does not operate the site in compliance with (the) permit."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Matt Dunn said that the appeal is improper. "The law says that you can appeal or you can reapply, but you can't do both."

With this latest appeal, May has now applied, been denied, re-applied, been re-denied, appealed the first denial, and now appealed the re-denial. If all this is confusing, it is even more so for residents in the area who are wondering just how many times they have to get the government to say, "No" to May before it finally will mean something.

In the latest appeal, Hillview claims that the IEPA was "arbitrary and capricious" in denying the application, in part, because:

1) Hillview's second application "responded to and complied with every matter raised in the January 17, 1986 (first) permit denial letter."

2) "The (Illinois Environmental Protection) Agency has not determined that the 'occasional odors' in the surrounding area purportedly caused by Abbott Laboratories sludge are unacceptable."

Richmond attorney, Donald Stinespring, who has served as legal counsel for the citizen's group that has led the effort to deny a permit to Hillview, said he is confident that a final resolution will be reached before the end of the summer.

The first appeal is scheduled to be heard in early July. At press time, no date for the second appeal had been set.

Officials Say Summer Is Season For Scams

As summer arrives, scams are popping up like dandelions.

Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller sent a notice to area businesses about police organizations soliciting funds by telephone, usually for a police ad book. According to Miller, some are claiming to represent the Antioch Police Dept. None do.

Miller said that the solicitations are not illegal, but that the misrepresentations are. Misrepresentation in a telephone conversation is difficult to prove, though, so Miller suggested that anyone receiving a call seeking funds for the police department check with the Antioch Police Dept. at (312) 395-8585 before making a donation.

Antioch Postmaster Stan Luta warned residents of another scam being perpetrated by telephone. Victims are told that they have won a fabulous prize and to expect it in the mail within a few days. All they have to do, the caller says, is to pay a small COD handling charge when the package arrives.

Of course, when the package does arrive, the victim learns too late that he paid his "small" handling charge for a box of junk. Luta warned people to beware of calls offering deals that are too good to be true.

Set Hearing For July 7

The Antioch Village Board has set Monday, July 7, as the date for a public hearing on the appropriations ordinance and the general assistance fund. The hearing will start at 6:30 p.m., an hour before the regular board meeting.

Play The Name Game-The Way People Vote

by JOHN STEINKE

Warren Twp. Supervisor Bob Depke claims that name recognition is the key to a successful election campaign. Deerfield Twp. Supervisor Robert Moroney contends, "I don't care what you write about me as long as you spell my name correctly." Survey after survey in political science shows that 85 percent of adult Americans possess little knowledge and interest in public affairs. Thus, most people peg their votes to a political party or a familiar name. The electorate cast their ballots for pleasant-sounding American names.

This phenomenon persuaded Illinois Democratic voters to nominate two followers of Lyndon H. LaRouche as candidates for statewide office in the March 18 primary. Mark Fairchild defeated George Sangmeister for the lieutenant governor nomination. Janice Hart beat Aurelia Pucinski for the secretary of state nomination.

Steinke On Politics

Their primary victories caused the party's gubernatorial nominee, Adlai E. Stevenson III, to submit his resignation from the ticket. Stevenson has characterized Fairchild and Hart as "Neo-Nazis." He is in the process of fielding a third-party candidacy for governor in the Nov. 4th election.

Here is a "ballot" listing offices 1 to 7 (no public offices specified), with two candidates for each position. Now I want you to pretend that you're an average voter casting your primary ballot without any knowledge of the candidates. These are the choices.

Office 1: Dale Bumpers or Elizabeth Flynn. Office 2: Eugene Dennis or Robert Kastenmaier. Office 3: Guy Vander Jagt or Paul Robeson. Office 4: Robert Thompson or Jake Pickle. Office 5: William Foster or E. (Kika) de la Gaze. Office 6: Joseph P. Addabbo or Gus Hall. Office 7: Angela Davis or Spark Matsunaga.

After registering your preferences, please turn page upside down for background information on all the candidates. Please don't cheat. Don't turn the page upside down depicting the candidates before you record your primary choices.

Miller Was Longest Chairman In History

Funeral services were held Wednesday, June 11, in Long Grove Community Church for County Board Dist. 6 Rep. Glenn E. Miller.

Mr. Miller, a former County Board chairman who served longer in that post than anyone in history, was 63.

Friends called at the Burnett-Dane Funeral Home, Libertyville.

Mr. Miller, a resident of Long Grove, died Saturday morning, June 7, when his car left McHenry Rd. near Wheeling and crashed into a fence and fire hydrant. He was an apparent heart attack victim.

He was driving alone and was on his way to a business appointment.

Mr. Miller, a life-long

Republican, was elected to the County Board in 1974 from the district representing Ela, Fremont, Cuba and Wauconda townships.

He succeeded the late Harry Robin of Ingleside as chairman in 1979 and held the post five years. He retained the chairmanship in 1982 in a 12-hour, 80 ballot election in what was regarded as one of the weirdest political battles ever on the governmental body known for free-wheeling politicking.

Although controversy swirled about his head constantly, Mr. Miller maintained leadership by following his credo of what he termed "always putting the county and the people first" in every decision.

He was proudest of the inter-governmental cooperation agreements worked out during his chairmanship and the initiation of a solid waste study that he maintained would eventually solve the county's waste disposal problems.

He also stressed the importance of elevating county employees to the status of professionals.

Mr. Miller was the son of the late Max and Vera Miller of Aptakisic, Vernon Twp. His maternal grandfather was Emil Geist, a pioneer merchant in south Lake County.

A star athlete at Liber-tyville High School, Mr. Miller played intercollegiate basketball at Baylor University.

Developers Hear Views

A Lake County Sheriff's car was parked at the entrance of Simpson Road, a deadend road near Old Mill Creek.

A few hundred yards up the gravel road, another patrolman waved cars in to Storeybrook Kennels and its trophy room area.

Despite the somewhat unusual setting of the meeting room, Old Mill Creek residents stood elbow-to-elbow, some outside, waiting for what officials from Duchoissois Enterprises had in store for their future.

The meeting June 9 was the first official chance for residents to air their views and ask questions of developers of a proposed multi-billion dollar race track.

John Kramer fielded most of the audience's queries.

Old Mill Creek board of trustees members expressed caution about the proposed development in their backyard.

"We'll just have to wait and see. This could turn out to be a good development," Trustee James Shinkunas said.

The 1,700 acre-development in Newport Twp. calls for a race track, two golf courses, hotel, single-family homes and a retail shop area.

Rescue Efforts

Members of the Grayslake Volunteer Fire Dept. led an 18-unit search for the body of a Grayslake man June 6 and 7. Eighteen departments sent either divers or vehicles from Lake, McHenry and Kenosha counties. The body of David Pinkham, 20, was found just after 10 a.m. June 7. Feature Local Artists Works by Janet Gallimore-Smith and Laura Hershberger will be featured through June at Willow Brook Gallery, 38500, Rt. 45, Millburn.

Smith will be exhibiting porcelain and raku' pottery in which she combines smooth surfaces with those that are textured. Her goal is to incite an intellectual or physical response in the observer.

An Antioch resident, she is the curator of collections and site manager for the Lake County Museum.

Hershberger is a handweaving fiber artist. Working on looms in her Lake Villa home, she creates her "Honeysuckle Handwovens." For this show she has woven several wall hangings.

A member of the North Shore Weaver's Guild, she enjoys working with children and often demonstrates in area schools.

Players Set Workshop

is suitable for the rank beginner and the veteran.

The Kirk Players' annual free theatrical summer workshop for adults will begin on June 16 and continue for nine consecutive Mondays through Aug. 11. The workshop is free and open to anyone from high school age on up.

Sessions will be held in the Mundelein High School auditorium from 7:30 to about 10 p.m. The workshop preparation.

The established format will again be followed. Participants will be assigned to specific scenes in groups of two or three actors and a director. They work independently on the scene and show it to the other workshop participants who provide constructive critique. The group goes back to work independently using those suggestions they agree with and present a final showing before their fellow participants.

Although it is not necessary to attend all nine sessions, students who do can expect to participate in two scenes, one as actor and perhaps one as director. Classic theatrical literature will provide scenes with enough "meat" to help any participant. Both comedy and drama will be featured.

Pre-registration is not necessary, but it would help in planning scenes to be used. Many Kirk Players were first discovered during these workshops and many lasting friendships have been formed. Come for instruction-by-doing or come just-for-fun! Call Lynn at (312) 566-6594 for additional information or to register.

Grand Stage To Do Neil Simon Show

Grand Stage Productions presents "I Ought To Be in Pictures" by Neil Simon, at the Grand Hotel Theater, 110 S. Main St., Wauconda, on Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 p.m., opening June 20 and running through Aug. 9.

"I Ought To Be in Pictures" is a poignant comedy about Libby Tucker, a young girl from New York City, who hitchhikes to Hollywood in search of the father who abandoned her 16 years before. Although Simon handles the situation with much mirth, the play deals with guilt, defense mechanisms, and finally the love and understanding that can arise when one takes responsibility for their actions.

Tucker and her father, Herbert, will be played by Irene Elizabeth Colson and Bill Bunton, both of Wauconda. They will be joined by Barbara Alexander of Batavia in the part of Herb's girlfriend, Steffy Blondelle.

Theater tickets are $8. Reservations for the theater, or for dinner and theater, can be made by calling the Grand Hotel at (312) 526-5582. Group rates are available.

Woodstock Searches

Paid production positions for two 1986-87 musicals of the Woodstock Musical Theatre Co. are available, Frank Harrison, president of the community theatre group, announced.

This will be the 10th season of the group, and two special musicals are planned: "Little Me" and "South Pacific." Harrison is accepting applications for the positions of director, stage manager, musical director, set construction foreman (carpenter) and choreographer. All are paid positions, he said.

Applications for the various openings should be sent to the WMTC at P.O. Box 613, Woodstock, Ill. 60098. Persons wishing more information about the responsibilities involved and time required are asked to contact Harrison at Woodstock, phone (815) 338-3004 or by writing to the post office box number for a reply.

Harrison said those applying should provide some background information concerning their experience for the position desired. The deadline for applications is June 15.

Apple Tree To Offer Original New Musical

July 1, is opening day for "Bosom Buddies", another hilarious new musical by Sandra Smith, to open at the Apple Tree Restaurant at Holiday Park.

This delightful comedy revolves around three zany ladies, Birdie, Bunny and Belle (Mary Plemel, Donna Kreisman and Sandra Smith) and their crusade to save the local park which is about to be destroyed to make way for the construction of a condominium.

If that happens what will happen to the beautiful peacocks that make their home in the park? What will happen to the bunnies, and the squirrels?

Of course Birdie, Bunny and Belle each have their own idea of how to handle the mayor, "Handsome Horace Hoffstetter" (in a cameo appearance by John Weber) in whose hands lies the final decision on the fate of the park, the peacocks, the bunnies and the squirrels.

The fun shifts into high gear when the ladies are accosted by Birdie's hilariously funny maid-Chi Chi (Dana Smith) who has some show-stopping ideas of her own. (She doesn't do windows, she can't cope with lunch but she mixes a mean marguerita and bakes world-class brownies!)

This fast-paced, fun-filled musical will have the audience humming along with some wonderful songs, gasping over the gorgeous costumes and choking with laughter at the zany antics of these delightful ladies.

"Bosom Buddies" will have a limited engagement at Apple Tree Restaurant July 1-Nov. 15.

Grad Marshal

Ron Naples, 1740 Deer Run, Lake Villa, was a marshall at the graduation exercises at Illinois State University. Marshalls lead the academic processional and recessional and are responsible for guiding the graduates through the degree-awarding ceremony.

The Food & Beverage Festival, converts Lakehurst Mall into a tasty food extravaganza. Attractive, self-contained modules representing Equal, Southern Comfort, Louis Rich Turkey and some 15 other major food and beverage related companies each feature video recipe demonstrations on TV monitors located throughout the mall. Participating companies also provide special booklets with recipes and cooking tips, coupons, and of course, everyone's favorite, product samples.

The Festival's own culinary expert, Chef Sage, cooks up tantalizing meals and offers nutritious cooking suggestions from a portable kitchen in the mall's Center Court at 11 a.m., 1 p.m., 3 p.m. 5 p.m. and 7 p.m.

While demonstrating recipes created especially for the Festival, the nationally renowned Chef makes the most gourmet dishes seem simple and pleasing to even the most discriminating taste.

Chef Sage's cooking demonstrations also have an educational purpose as shoppers learn valuable, nutritious information with regard to modern dietary restrictions. When not instructing on how shoppers can cut down on their sodium and cholesterol intake, the Chef demonstrates decorative serving suggestions, offers handy tips when planning a party and gives time-saving hints while working in the kitchen.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

I WAS SO disappointed that there was no Memorial Day parade this year. Village officials said that the VFW and the American Legion take turns organizing it. Apparently there were some new people in office this year and it just didn't get off the ground. At least, that's what the village says.

The most disappointed people were probably the band students, many of whom had been practicing for their big day marching down Main St.

I don't know about you, but it sure seems to me that even though they weren't officially responsible, someone from the village could have called the organizers and said, "Hey, you don't have a parade permit application in yet. Do you need any help getting things together?"

This is such a big tradition in town. Twenty years ago, I used to come out to watch my little grandson, Larry, march in his green uniform playing his trumpet and it made me so proud. He loved marching in that parade - not as much as he loved the year when the grade school band got to go Expo '67 in Montreal, but that is a different story.

I just hope that next year the people who are in a position to know when permit applications are due and all that sort of thing will be a little more helpful to the people putting the parade together so that we don't miss another tradition.

Happy Jewelers

Julian and Susan Persin proudly display some of the many fine pieces of jewelry they have to offer at Persin and Persin Jewelers. The Persins just changed the name of their store after owning it for two years. Many of the items in the store were custom designed and manufactured by Julian Persin, himself.

Of course, a lot of fun things are planned throughout the summer, so we should have plenty to do and enjoy. But I still feel awful sorry for those sweet, little children that were practicing for their big day marching through town.

I TALKED WITH that nice young fellow, Charlie Johnston, the other day. He is the editor of the Antioch News-Reporter.

He was telling me that he hopes that all the groups and organizations in town will send him their press releases for the paper. He said he knew that people in town had gotten pretty frustrated with all the editors that have come and gone in the last couple of years, but that he had been with the paper long before he took over Antioch and he expects to be with the paper for a long time to come.

Did you know that when he was a little boy he was a student in the Antioch schools? He lived in the Antioch area for nine years. I was delighted to find out that he had played in the band with my grandson back when George Olsar was the grade school band director. They used to practice upstairs in what is now the Lakes Region Historical Society Building.

So anyway, why don't you send your news items to him. He promises that he will try to give coverage to everything in town.

Open New Owners At LaBistro Season

The cottage at the foot of Main and Lake Sts. next to the IGA and Bamboo Hut has opened for the summer season of the Twin Lakes Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber will again have discount tickets for Six Flags Great America as well as information on many other points of interest in the area to help make vacation more interesting for residents and guests.

The run will be held during the month of June culminating with the lighting of the Opening Flame as the opening ceremonies of the 1986 Badger State Games in Madison, June 28.

by GLORIA DAVIS

A gourmet and unusual menu, offering fine food at moderate prices, is a new feature of the La Bistro Restaurant, at the intersection of Lake St. and Rte. 83 in Grayslake.

This new feature is an innovation of the restaurant's new owners, Kory and Janet Edwards, who took over in February.

The biggest change the Edwards made when they took over was to "change drastically" the quality and presentation of the food they offer perspective diners.

Kory has been a chef for 10 years, has worked for many fine eateries and French restaurants in the east and Janet was the garde manager(cold-salad chef) at the Orrington Hotel in Evanston. Those yummy home-made pastries featured at La Bistro are her handiwork.

Kory's culinary expertise touches every bit of the American or continental cuisine that passes from the La Bistro's kitchen to its diningroom, from a favorite, orange roughy to the succulent beef Wellington.

Lunch and dinner are served from Monday through Friday and dinner on Saturday.

County Agencies Help In Search For Man

Eighteen fire departments from three counties participated in a two-day search for a drowned Grayslake man.

After 20 hours of searching Gray's Lake June 6 and 7, the body of David Pinkham, 20, of 267 S. Lake St., Grayslake.

The Grayslake Volunteer Fire Dept. got the call of a possible drowning incident at 2:03 a.m. June 6.

The body was found in heavy weeds about 12 feet off the lake's west shore at 10:19 a.m. June 7.

Rescuers from as far west as Woodstock and as far north as Kenosha County helped in the operation.

Among the participating agencies included: the Lake County Sheriff's Dept.; Fox Lake, Antioch, Mundelein, Countryside, Bonnie Brook, Round Lake, Waukegan and Waukegan. McHenry County departments included:

Cary, Woodstock Rural, Spring Grove.

The Lake County Sheriff's Dept. communications vehicle served as a command post.

Pinkham, a Grayslake Community High School graduate, apparently was changing seats in a canoe when it capsized during the early morning hours of June 6.

Two girls with Pinkham, Kelly Kingge, 18, and Sharon Mau, 17, were rescued.

Heavy fog hampered the recovery operation during the first day, making it unsafe for the boats to be on the lake at times. The visibility was estimated at 100 feet. The operation was called off at about 5 p.m.

Resuming at 7 a.m., the operation concentrated its efforts on an area west of the Lake St. command post.

Grayslake Police Dept. personnel blocked off Lake St. from traffic.

Producers Will Vote

Illinois wheat producers voting in a June "advisory referendum" should be aware of the unintended consequences of a "yes" vote, according to Illinois Farm Bureau President John White, Jr.

"A quick reading of the mailed ballots will lead many farmers to believe that a 'yes' vote is a vote for higher wheat prices," said White. "But the facts clearly show that a 'yes' vote on the wheat poll is a vote for lower income for wheat producers."

The ballots, to be mailed to farmers by mid-June, will be a non-binding poll of wheat producers called for by the 1985 farm bill. The poll is designed to measure farmer attitudes towards mandatory production limits on wheat.

An additional producer referendum would be required to actually implement production allotments and marketing quotas.

White said those who promoted the June poll viewed it as a general survey of farmer attitudes towards mandatory production controls. But he warned farmers to carefully consider the question raised on the ballot and respond with a "no" vote.

The ballots will ask for a yes or no vote on a proposal to "impose limits on production sufficient to result in market prices for wheat no less than 125 percent of the cost of production, excluding land and residual returns to management."

"What's left out of this statement is the extent of the acreage cutback needed to make the proposal work," said White. "Acreage reductions must be at least 55 percent compared to current cutbacks of 27½ percent. The additional acreage reduction would slash the total net return of a typical wheat producer by almost 30 percent compared to the current program."

White also said Illinois wheat producers have additional reasons to reject the idea of mandatory production controls. He noted many Illinois producers have very small ASCS wheat bases, even though their actual planted acreage in recent years may have been substantial.

"Under marketing quotas and production allotments, many Illinois producers would find themselves free to plant only 45 percent of a five or six acre base," said White. "The system would be even more restrictive than the wheat planting limits imposed on Illinois farmers during the 60's."

In addition, White said Illinois traditionally produces soft red winter wheat, which has a better supply/demand relationship than other classes of wheat. "Acreage cutbacks would penalize soft red winter wheat producers most because they have a better marketing balance and have relied less on government programs in the past," said White. "Some would be denied the right to plant any wheat."

"The facts clearly show wheat producers should vote 'no' when they receive their ballots," said White. ASCS officials expect ballots to be mailed from county offices by June 18. Returned ballots must be postmarked no later than July 7.

135 Fatalities In May Accidents

The superintendent of Illinois State Police, Lainutis A. Nargelenas, announced the latest provisional figures for the month of May, which indicate 135 persons died from injuries sustained from traffic accidents on Illinois streets and highways.

State Police, Dist. 2, which covers Lake, McHenry, DeKalb, Kane and DuPage Counties, reports 76 persons have been killed in these counties since January. Ninety-six persons were killed during the same period in 1985 in these counties.

A breakdown of the counties for statistics in May shows Lake County, seven fatalities; McHenry County had four fatalities; DuPage County had four fatalities; Kane County had four fatalities and DeKalb County two fatalities.

As a comparison for May, 1985, Lake County had four fatalities; McHenry County had 15 fatalities; DuPage County had seven fatalities; Kane County had four fatalities and DeKalb County had seven fatalities.

There have been 516 persons killed in the entire state in 1986. There were 540 persons killed in the same time period of 1985 showing a decrease of 24.

Goodbye, Las Vegas

Advisers and coaches of the Grayslake Colts Junior football team are going to scuttle their annual Las Vegas Night fund raising project because sharp-shooters are taking over the games and making off with all the prizes.

For this reason and the fact that the pseudo-gambling events for charity have been under fire lately, it's just as well that the roulette wheels and blackjack tables be locked up in mothballs. For the uninitiated, Las Vegas Night parties offer participants an opportunity to engage in a live gaming atmosphere. Only the hot-handed dice rollers and slick card players are paid off with fun money which, in turn, is used to bid on prizes contributed by local merchants.

It probably was inevitable that sharpies figured out a way to beat the local charity fund raisers. Besides pulling dice changes, they were intimidating the amateur croupiers. At the end of the evening they would pool their dishonestly earned bogus bills, and stampede the bidding. Grayslake Colt sponsors are convinced their 1985 Las Vegas Night was "taken over" by an organized gang.

Too bad that community events for a good cause have to be eliminated because of the unscrupulous. Discounting the fun everyone had trying to "break the bank at Monte Carlo," the good thing coming from the Las Vegas Night cancellation is that the same amount of time and effort exerted for other types of fund raising will produce a much bigger payoff in uniforms and equipment for the young football players.

Our Own Iacocca?

Could Arlington Park Racetrack owner, Richard Duchossois, be the Illinois answer to Lee Iacocca? The announcement that Arlington Park Racetrack would relocate to Old Mill Creek in Lake County was one of the smoothest pieces of work we have ever seen.

Consider for a moment: last year, plans for a Chicago World's Fair fell apart when Chicago and Illinois politicians could not agree on what, if anything, they wanted. The City of Chicago is in danger of losing the Cubs, White Sox, and Bears and no one can seem to get together any sort of commitment to keep them. Illinois and Wisconsin watched many children die on the border while arguing for years about what the drinking age should be.

Then along comes Duchossois and all of a sudden every politician in Illinois and Wisconsin adopts the slogan of Toyota dealers: you asked for it, you got it. You want a tax break, Mr. Duchossois; you got it. You want Wisconsin parimutuel betting laws loosened, Mr. Duchossois; you got it. At the press conference, we were disappointed that Joe Garagiola did not show up and say, "Buy a car - get a check. Buy a truck - get a check. Build a track - get a break."

Don't get us wrong, though. We are glad to find someone in Illinois who can get a big job done. We thought that there should have been a World's Fair in Illinois. We think Chicago should do the job to keep its sports teams. We thought that the drinking age in Wisconsin should have been raised before the border carnage grew to unavoidable proportions.

Now that Duchossois has shown he can handle the big boys, we just hope he doesn't lower his sights. How about the Lakeland Cubs for your next project, Mr. Duchossois?

Sound Thinking Youths

When it comes to directing youth activities, mom and dad know best. Or do they?

The concept of parental control is receiving a stiff challenge in Arbor Vista, a subdivision of fine homes located between Grayslake and Mundelein, where parents are working to detach from Warren High School in favor of Libertyville High School.

High school age students have sponsored their own petition campaign to support their school, Warren High. They offer some compelling reasons to maintain the status quo, including the fact that in the face of a current building blitz, Libertyville soon will be over crowded, and the fact that in a few short years Warren students will be enjoying a new school. The student petition also spotlights academic excellence at Warren High.

Compared to their children, the parent position supporting detachment of Arbor Vista comes off about as exciting as two-day old oatmeal gruel. The strongest argument the Arbor Vista parents have been able to produce for trucking off their offspring to Libertyville is that "our homes are like those in Libertyville." What's architectural similarity have to do with the education process?

Kids, you're showing wisdom beyond your years. We're for you!

Small School Closing

Slowly, the toll sounds for small school districts. The charm of togetherness, quaintness, sacrifice, closeness and so forth is wearing thin. Thus Newport School, a rural stateline district with a dwindling enrollment, will become extinct and part of history when members of the Lake County Board of Regional School Trustees likely will approve Newport's absorption into Beach Park School at a hearing June 25.

Was it to their credit or stubbornness that Newport officials finally gave up the good fight and capitulated to the economic forces and state aid formulas ruling against small school districts? That, of course, is a matter of viewpoint.

While Newport taxpayers will be paying more school taxes as part of the neighboring larger district, the doors of opportunity will be opening for their children. It will be up to the voters and parents to make sure that they get value received for trading in their autonomy.

More Support For Ending 55 On Interstates

by BILL SCHROEDER

Statistics coming out of Nebraska support the theory that the federal 55 mph speed limit is for the birds and that the real national speed limit is 65 mph.

Arrest figures from the Nebraska state highway patrol show 3,918 citations issued on interstates last year for drivers going up to 65 mph, but more than 27,000 tickets for drivers going over 65 mph. I tend to agree with the Nebraska figures, because your writer helped provide one of those more than 27,000 tickets on a lonely stretch of I-70 without another car in sight on a cloudless evening.

An editorial writer for the Wall Street Journal referred to the 55 mph limit as "crazy." The editorialist wrote, "Everyone knows it is physically difficult and often dangerous to maintain a modern car at a speed of 55 on an interstate highway."

If you are a 55 hater, it should be comforting to know that several states are ignoring the federal mandate, even at the risk of losing federal highway funds. Arizona and Vermont now are under the gun from the feds for failure—or refusal—to enforce the 55 limit. Out in good old Cornhusker territory, the state legislature voted in May to raise the limit on interstates to 70 mph. To heck with fed handouts.

Government officials don't broadcast it, but U.S. data indicates that the average national driving speed on rural interstates is 66 mph. You're not alone if you think traveling between 60 and 65 makes a nice, sensible pace on an interstate.

'ACTION MAN—Follow John Kramer and you find the action.'

The suave politician with the receding forehead has surfaced as major domo of the new look being generated for Arlington Park (minus the race track).

Last time we saw Kramer he was extolling the wonders and cultural advantages of the Chicago World's Fair (the Chicago what?) and telling us how towns like Mundelein, Grayslake and (what the heck) Hainseville will benefit from "spill over" tourism. Now Kramer is front and center as the spokesman for the $625 million development that will rise from the ashes of the burned out track.

Kramer first came to prominence as the youngish head of the Illinois Dept. of Transportation (IDOT). Along with an ability to shift gears fast, Kramer has an inside track (no pun intended) to the governor. That's all he needs to become the unofficial mayor of the redevelopment of Arlington.

PET PEEVE—Isn't it about time something is done about switchboard operators who blurt impatiently "hold please" before they find out who you are and what you want? If they're following orders, their bosses ought to be boiled in oil. If they've adopted this discourteous and disconcerting procedure themselves, they ought to transfer to a hash slinging job.

STILL SEARCHING—The search continues for a more appropriate nickname for Donald "Rummy" Rumsfeld, one-time area congressman, presidential aide, former Sec. of Defense and potential Republican nominee for the White House.

After pondering the problem at length, I've settled on "Rammer" until a better one comes along. Rammer sounds like a guy who gets things done. State's Atty. Fred Foreman advanced a clever possibility, Rumbo. It's contemporary and denotes power and strength. Any other ideas? Give this column a call.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—The newlyweds arrived home safe and sound after a wedding trip to Florida. Bill and Lisa were educated into the world of plastic money. Plans to rent a car and do some touring went awry because they weren't equipped with a suitable credit card. Also, Florida shuns car renters under age 25. So the newlyweds saved their cash, walking the beaches and biking about their island retreat.

Letter To The Editor:

Expensive Cart

Editor:

A few weeks ago a letter was written by the Brae Loch Ladies' Golf Assn. to the Lake County Forest Preserve District about the prices that were charged by Brae Loch and Countryside Golf Clubs for the use of their gas or electric golf carts.

We think that the price of $10 for nine and $16 for 18 holes (flat rate whether one or two use the cart) is rather high, especially for senior citizens who in many cases are unable to walk the golf course.

The letter sent to the Forest Preserve District evidently called for a meeting at which time they decided that the price charged at Brae Loch and Countryside was similar to other courses. All tax-supported golf courses in the county, such as Bonnie Brook, Zion, Foss Park, Deerpath, Deerfield Park have a much lower rate for the use of gas or electric carts, especially for senior citizens. Please do not compare rates with private clubs or privately owned clubs.

Many carts are parked in the parking lot, unused. I wonder why?

We feel that the Forest Preserve Board should give this renewed consideration.

Saving money by using less gas

THE UNHANDYMAN'S GUIDE TO CAULKING AND WEATHERSTRIPPING.

One of the best ways to save money on energy costs is to make improvements on your home that will help you use less energy.

One of the easiest and most worthwhile things you can do is minimize your heating and cooling loss by caulking and weatherstripping.

If you live in a typical home and install caulking and weatherstripping, you can trim your energy cost for heating by up to $40 per year. You'll recover your investment in two years or less, and after that it's money in the bank.

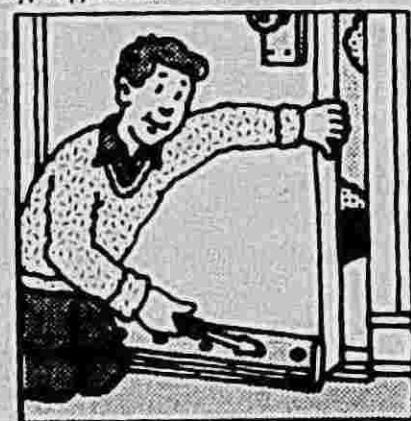

Caulking and weatherstripping your house requires a minimum of tools, time and know-how. Even not-so-handy homeowners can easily handle this job. You use caulk to plug air leaks outside, and weatherstripping inside to seal the openings around doorways and windows.

WEATHERSTRIPPING— THE INDOOR SOLUTION

Weatherstripping is the best way to stop air leaks.

To detect hidden drafts inside, make your own distress flag by taping a piece of tissue to a pencil. On a breezy day use this detector to find air leaks by holding it near window sills and doorways. If the tissue moves, you've located a spot that needs weatherstripping. Here's where to look for drafts: ■ Around all windows and door frames ■ Space around pulleys in double-hung windows ■ At electrical wall outlets and switches in exterior walls ■ Around heating registers.

Weatherstripping comes in many forms. For instance there are threshold weatherstripping materials designed to fill the gap between the bottom of a door and floor. For doors and windows, there's spring metal or brass weatherstripping that's inexpensive and effective.

Self-adhesive plastic weatherstripping is more expensive but easier to install. As a handy temporary sealer, you can use caulking rope or cord.

For electrical outlets and light switches, low cost foam rubber gaskets can be used to seal gaps. And, in your garage, molded stripping is available to seal your garage door.

Installation is easy and you'll find instructions with each of these products. Metal weatherstripping is easily cut with a heavy scissors or tin snips. Plastic is cut with a knife or scissors. Before applying adhesive-backed weatherstripping, clean the surface behind the glue for maximum grip.

NOW'S THE TIME.

Now's a perfect time to get to work on projects like caulking and weatherstripping. So why not start now?

It'll be money in your pocket, when next winter rolls around.

Chopped Liver — Great Take-Along For Parties

I love baptisms more than weddings because the ceremony is shorter and I don't have to dance with the star.

After hosting several baptisms—I hope my godsons will forgive me—I've decided that I'd rather partake of the festivities than organize them. It's work with a capital "W."

When my stepson's daughter was scheduled for her baptism this year, his in-laws took charge. Bless them. Relatives of all parties and several friends, however, brought a variety of tasty creations to the reception. Boy, what a spread.

Pilot Light

GREG MELIKOV

I did not go empty-handed to the rented hall. I brought chopped liver. When it comes to chopped liver, there is no middle ground—you eat more than your fill or you eat none at all.

When I couldn't get fresh chicken livers, it turned out to be a time-saver. The frozen one-pound containers had the livers nicely cleaned.

You really can't judge the taste of chopped liver while it is warm, but you can control the consistency, which is equally important.

There was a healthy dent in the chopped liver, I proudly report, and several people even dropped by my table to pay their compliments. I love those kind of baptisms.

Chopped Liver

4 pounds chicken livers, washed and patted dry
 4 medium onions, sliced
 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
 4 tablespoons chicken fat
 1 tablespoon sugar
 Paprika, salt, white pepper and chopped dill to taste
 3 hard-cooked eggs, finely chopped
 1/2 cup sherry
 Lettuce leaves and sliced tomatoes (optional)

In big pot, cook chicken livers in boiling water several minutes until they turn white;

remove with slotted spoon and drain. In large skillet, saute onions in one tablespoon hot oil until limp. Add chicken fat and livers; saute about 30 minutes, stirring and breaking up livers with wooden spoon until excess liquid is gone. Add seasonings near end of cooking, mashing livers. Put mixture through food processor or blend in blender until pasty smooth and place in large mixing bowl. Add eggs and stir in sherry vigorously, correcting seasoning if needed; stir in one tablespoon oil. Place chopped liver in two serving bowls or in large greased mold; cover and refrigerate overnight. If using a mold, unmold on bed of lettuce surrounded by tomatoes. Serve with crackers.

Fatalities Declining

Lois Robinson, executive director of the Illinois coalition for Safety Belt Use, said automobile occupant fatalities continue to decline although Illinois motorists are driving more miles and are involved in more accidents than in previous years.

The Illinois Dept. of Transportation has released figures showing that there were 84 occupant fatalities in May, 1986, compared to 94 in May, 1985. The five-year average for May is 83.

IDOT statistics also show that the number of automobile fatalities per 100 million miles traveled has been steadily declining. In 1980, there were 3.1 fatalities for each 100 million miles of auto travel. By 1985, this number had decreased to 2.2 fatalities for each 100 million miles driven.

"Since July 1, 1985, when the safety belt use law was enacted, there have been 864 automobile occupant fatalities, compared to a five-year average of 982 for the same period. The use of safety belts already has helped save 98 lives since it has been in force," Robinson stated.

The safety official repeated her call to Illinois motorists and passengers to buckle their safety belts so that greater savings in lives can be achieved.

Teach Your Child About The Animals Around Him

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

There are about 15 animals of the wild that every child should know. Often the zoo is a good place for the parents to teach them, but many can also be found in a nearby woods. Every child should be able to identify these animals and parents should teach them to respect wild life.

Raccoons are very common. He has thick fur that stands on end and a black ring pattern on his face that looks like a mask. They live all over North America and wherever there are lots of trees.

The raccoon uses his front feet as hands and he will carry his food to a stream to clean it. He eats things like nuts, berries, minnows, crabs, beetles, carrots and corn.

The gray squirrel is most common and can be seen in your own yard. He has a long tail that appears to float behind him. His body is long. His long tail helps him to balance himself on tree limbs and wires. He has long fingered paws that help him to climb and he can jump and scurry through trees.

The rabbit is another wild animal that you might see in your own yard as well as the woods. They have wiggly noses and a small white tail. Their long ears catch the sound of danger and his fur is thick and gray brown. He loves to eat lettuce, parsley, spinach, carrots, cabbage and herbs whenever he can get them.

The chipmunk has dark stripes running down his head and back. He loves nuts and will often get more in his mouth than he can chew at once. He digs himself a hole under the tree as his home. This little guy is very quick and brave.

The woodchuck is very different. Another name for him is the groundhog. He seems to know when spring has come to stay.

The opossum is an odd looking animal. He is about the size of a cat and he's not very fast. He is a whitish gray with bright eyes, a pink nose and forward pointed ears set low on the head. His fur is short and his tail looks bare. He climbs trees and curls around branches. If he feels danger is imminent, he plays possum to be inconspicuous.

The porcupine is not one to be petted. He looks like a cushion full of needles. They seem to point in all directions. He is black as coal and can shoot quills like arrows when he senses danger. Of course they hurt, and that's why no one bothers the porcupine.

A child should learn a little about the lynx, red fox, whitefooted field mouse, otter, barn owl, mole, tortoise and the beaver. These animals are common to our area.

A child has a desire and is always ready to learn about the animals that live around him. He wants to know what they look like and a little bit about how they live.

The skunk is not an animal to get too close to. Other skunks don't mind the smell of skunks, but all other creatures do. They are peaceful and bother no one. If they are annoyed, they give their smell to anyone who bothers them.

The skunk has a gorgeous black coat with a white stripe down it. Their tails stand out. Babies can't give a scent until they are older and so the mother keeps them close to her for safety. They eat pests that ruin farm crops.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Lorenz

Westlund-Lorenz

Kay Bea Westlund, Plymouth, Wis., daughter of Ernest and Barbara Westlund, Antioch, and Neil Arthur Lorenz, Sheboygan, Wis., son of Margaret Lorenz, Michigamme, Mich., were joined in marriage during a candlelight ceremony at 7:30 p.m., May 16, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Plymouth, Wis., by the Rev. James Adams.

The bride was given away by her parents at the double ring ceremony.

Matron of honor was Carol (Westlund) Fish, sister of the bride. Junior bridesmaids were Jennifer Westlund and Sarah Westlund, nieces of the bride.

Best man was Larry Lorenz, brother of the groom.

Ushers were Glen Westlund, brother of the bride, and Bob Wedin, friend of the groom.

They will be making their home in Plymouth.

The bride is a 1978 graduate of Antioch High School and a 1980 graduate of the College of Lake County. In 1982 she received a bachelors degree in medical record administration from Illinois State University. She is employed as a medical records coordinator by Rocky Knoll Health Care Facility, Plymouth.

The groom is a 1979 graduate of Westwood High School, Ishpeming, Mich. In 1983 he received a bachelors degree in accounting from Northern Michigan University. He is employed as a cost accountant by Borden, Inc., Plymouth.

Church in Antioch by the Rev. Charles E. Miller.

Maid of honor was Vicki Vanderwerff, Paddock Lake, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were: Mary Jo Gertz, sister-in-law of the groom; Susan Carey, sister of the groom; Gail Koss; Kathryn Leathers; Kathy Melhorn; and DeeAnn MacDonald. Junior bridesmaid was Cristi Carey, niece of the groom. Flower girl was Heide Vanderwerff, niece of the bride.

Best man was Timothy Gertz, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were: Patrick Gertz and James Gertz, brothers of the groom; Martin Vanderwerff, brother-in-law of the bride; Matt Morris; Paul Howard; and James Gallivan, cousin of the groom.

Jr. groomsman was Jeffery Gertz, and ring bearer was Timothy Gertz, Jr., both nephews of the groom.

Following a reception at Andre's Steak House in Richmond, the couple took a honeymoon trip to Maui, Hawaii. They are now at home in Antioch.

The bride attended Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, Ill. and was a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma. She is employed by Lakes Area Advertiser, Inc., Antioch.

The groom attended the College of Lake County and is employed by Jack Donelson Sales Co., Waukegan.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gertz

Nohlechek-Gertz

Lori Nohlechek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nohlechek, Antioch, and Michael Gertz, Antioch, were joined in marriage at 4 p.m., May 10 at St. Stephen's Lutheran

Sponsor Easter Seals' Run

Chandler's Family Fitness Center and The Athlete's Choice (coming soon) co-sponsored a 10K (six mile) run and a two mile run to raise money for Easter Seals of Lake County.

One hundred seventeen people registered, and hundreds turned out to watch this fun-filled Memorial Day extravaganza.

The runners ranged in age from five to 56. Darryl Johnston finished first in the 10K run with a respectable 33:20. The first woman to finish the 10K run was Colleen Wisem (12th overall) with a time of 39:53.

The first place finisher in the two-mile fun run was William Martin, with a time of 10:38. The first woman to finish was Michelle Zinkowich, age 14 (13th overall).

overall), with a time of 14:29.

Darryl Johnston and William Martin each won three-month memberships at Chandler's. Everyone else finishing first in their age group, won gift certificates to The Athlete's Choice.

Chandler's and The Athlete's Choice extend congratulations to everyone who ran. Also, they'd like to say a special "thank you" to the Lindenhurst Police Dept., Lake Villa Rescue Squad, Victory Outreach, Camp Ravenswood, Libertyville Massage Therapy, Easter Seals of Lake County, the Lindenhurst residents and all the volunteers.

Chandler's and The Athlete's Choice look forward to seeing everyone next year.

New Treatment For Varicose Veins

For the estimated five percent of the population who are plagued with varicose veins, there is a solution, according to Timothy Ryan, M.D., whose vascular laboratory is located at the North Point Medical/Dental Center, 1911 27th St., Zion.

The problem usually occurs in females of child-bearing age, and both males and females over the age of 50.

Ryan, a board-certified surgeon trained in diseases of the veins and arteries, can now eliminate the unsightly and sometimes painful veins non-surgically on an outpatient basis.

It used to be that "vein stripping," a painful surgical procedure that required hospitalization and in all cases left scarring, was the most effective way of removing varicose veins, says Ryan.

Now sclerotherapy, a procedure where an injection directly into the vein collapses the vein making it disappear, is just as effective as "stripping" with no scarring or any other side effect, and can be performed on outpatients at the center.

Other benefits of sclerotherapy are that the expense is much less than the stripping procedure, with no pain, said Julie Nelson, a recent patient of Ryan's.

Following the injection into the vein, the leg is wrapped in an elastic bandage for a minimum of three weeks. After that, the patient is required to wear a compression stocking, usually three to four weeks, depending on the severity of the case.

Reoccurrence of the problem following sclerotherapy is very unlikely. If the varicose vein does reoccur, it will not happen for about five years and the procedure is redone at no additional cost.

Bradley Clinic Gets New Head

A change of command has taken place at the Edward L. Bradley Clinic in Lake Villa. Allendale School's President Robert Holway has appointed as the new director of the clinic, Dr. George Lutz.

Lutz, replaces Dr. Steven Julius who was the clinic's first director and has gone into private practice. Dr. Lutz comes to the Bradley Clinic with a long history in clinic and teaching experience.

As the director of the clinic, Allendale School's Outpatient and Foster Care Facility, he will be responsible to coordinate the three major components of the clinic's programs.

These programs include: individual, group or family therapy; a full range of educational, intellectual, psychological, and psychiatric assessments; community consultation; foster care and aftercare.

The services of the agency are furnished to the greater northern Lake County area through two office locations. The main location being on the Allendale campus in Lake Villa and a field office in the Belvidere Executive Plaza in Waukegan.

Dr. Lutz's experience includes being program coordinator at a child/adolescent treatment center, director of a group home, family therapist at a residential center. His teaching has included sessions in suicide and mental health assessment, stress management, and introduction to psychology.

He received his Ph.D. from Northwestern University and is a member of the American Psychological Assn. He resides with his wife, Candice, and family in Chicago.

Tree House Opens Branch

My Tree House Children Center has brought its early childhood educational program to Antioch, in addition to its well established program in Lindenhurst.

Recently the Governor's Office of Review dispatched a three member team to evaluate and review for two full days the entire program in Lindenhurst.

Jeane Kelly, director and administrator of both locations with 30 years experience states, "It was gratifying to hear the final report state the entire program was excellent."

The opening of My Tree House, Too, in Antioch, gives families in that area another choice for day care for their children. Words of advice for parents: make at least three visits to the care center of your choice. First, to make your child familiar with the center, teachers, and students; second, to evaluate the programs, materials, and staff; and third, to make sure the standards on overcrowding, meals, safety, etc., set by Illinois law are being met. A pamphlet explaining these standards can be acquired from the Dept. of Children and Family Services or your day care center.

The Lindenhurst school had its pre-kindergarten graduation program at the civic center. Parents, grandparents and siblings were entertained by Mrs. Burke's graduating class members.

Levinson Joins Firm

Wauconda attorney Thomas W. Gooch has announced that Roberta N. Levinson, has joined his law firm, Thomas W. Gooch & Associates, Ltd.

"Levinson brings to this office an interest and experience in special education law, school law and family law," said Gooch. "This emphasis, particularly special education, is something we have not had in the past," he added.

"Special education is an area where most attorneys do not have a lot of experience. I am particularly happy that Gooch is giving me an opportunity to do what I've always wanted to do," Levinson said.

She explained that special education law "is composed of specific laws that protect handicapped children to ensure that they receive an appropriate education."

While attending John Marshall Law School in Chicago,

Levinson worked for the U.S. Dept. of Education administering and overseeing bi-lingual, women's and special education programs. Later, she worked as a special education advocate and law clerk for a Chicago law firm.

Before joining Thomas W. Gooch and Associates, Levinson worked for the Lake County public defender's office in Waukegan. "My experience as an assistant public defender included trial work with a concentration in juvenile cases," she said.

"Laws that affect families, schools and children's education are designed to benefit the community," she stated, "and at the same time, these are areas where many people need some type of assistance to take full advantage of the laws."

Levinson was graduated with a dual degree in political science and secondary social studies education from Syracuse University in upstate New York.

She resides in Twin Lakes with her three-month-old daughter, Amanda Lee, and husband, Kim Lewis who is also an attorney working in the Gooch law firm.

Open House.

Here's your chance to tour a nuclear power plant.

Ordinarily, nuclear plants aren't thought of as tourist attractions.

So this is no ordinary offer.

For some of us, it's the chance of a lifetime. In a few weeks, construction work at our newest nuclear station in Braidwood will reach a stage when many of its more interesting features can no longer be made available for public viewing.

But until that time, you can see it all. Just call 1 800 342-6070 if you live in Illinois; 1 815 727-5617 if outside of Illinois, for reservations. It's that simple.

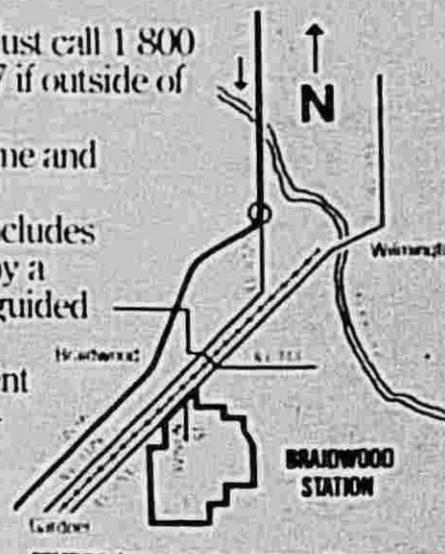

We'll try to arrange your tour at the time and date most convenient for you.

The tour will last about 2½ hours. It includes an introductory video presentation, followed by a question-and-answer session, and a one-mile guided walking tour of the facility.

You'll see inside the reactor containment structure where the walls are steel-reinforced concrete, 3½ feet thick. You'll see the control room, the nerve center of the entire complex. You'll begin to understand many of the principles of electricity and nuclear fission. You'll sense the power, strength and efficiency of modern electrical generation.

Come dressed for the occasion. Remember, it's a construction site.

And bring your friends. There's no charge for the tour or parking. But be sure to call first. Reservations are required for admission.

Offer Classes

Kim Kalla's Studio of Dance opened its doors in 1974, and now has two fully equipped studios on Cedar Ave. in Lake Villa. The studio offers classes in tap, ballet and pointe, jazz and tumbling. Recently a new program was added, "Stretch and Flex," for moms and tots age two-four years. Aside from the regular instruction, the emphasis is on poise, politeness, confidence and creativity. Classes are lots of fun; however, good discipline is a must.

Kim Kalla Studios is very proud of its 35 member dance team, Dance Magic. The team, ranging in age from eight to 18, performs and competes throughout Illinois, and has also won several national awards including a small group title in New York City. However, winning takes a second to good sportsmanship and encouragement.

Dance and tumbling instructors are Kim Kalla and Kathy Pierce; tumbling instructor is Chris Cox; tot program instructor is Sharon Dewar. Anyone interested in classes or needing a performing group may call the Studio II number, (312) 356-8999.

Receive Award

Nadine Craig, a sales representative for Searle Pharmaceuticals Inc., and a resident of Gurnee, has been named to the company's "Pro Club" for outstanding sales achievements in 1985, announced V.N. "Andy" Anderson, Searle's vice president of sales. Craig received the award at the Pro Club members' meeting in Puerto Rico.

"Pro Club members are Searle's top sales performers nationally, based on rigorous selection criteria," according to Anderson. Craig was one of only 58 sales representatives from a sales force of about 550 to receive the honor.

Searle is a research-based company which develops, manufactures and markets prescription pharmaceuticals worldwide.

within the Internal Revenue Service, through the courts, or both.

According to the IRS, after the tax examination the first step for a dissatisfied taxpayer is to request an immediate meeting with the examiner's supervisor.

If no agreement is reached taxpayers have 30 days to appeal through the appeals division, which is independent of the examination division. The role of the appeals officer is to bring an unprejudiced and unbiased point of view to the case and to reach a settlement without having to go to court.

If an agreement is not reached at the appeals conference, or if the appeals system is skipped, the taxpayers may take their case to the United States Tax Court, the United States Claims Court or their United States Dist. Court.

Additional information on taxpayers' rights of appeal is available in the free IRS Publication 556, Examination of Return, Appeal Rights and Claims for Refund. This publication can be ordered by calling your local IRS office.

Investors, Business To Feel Reform Pinch

Investors and business will feel a financial squeeze from the proposed overhaul of the nation's tax system, especially real estate, experts say.

"The day after this bill passes, investment real estate will fall in value by approximately 20 percent," said David Bramson, tax partner with Laventhal & Horwath, a national CPA firm. "After time the value will return, because of shortages created and the resulting ability of the landlords to increase rents."

Simply put, while the recent Senate tax reform package would cut tax rates, it also would abolish numerous tax havens and investment incentives.

Experts say the Senate version of tax reform is "far worse" for real estate in general and investment in rental housing specifically than the bill passed by the House. The Senate is expected to act on its tax reform package in early June.

Real estate investment banker Robert A. Judelson, vice chairman of giant Balcor Co., based in Skokie, said the Senate tax reform plan is "a multiple assault on capital formation."

The bill removes so many incentives for investors that Judelson predicts it would drive up the cost of financing, create shortages in the housing and industrial real estate sectors and eventually significantly increase unemployment (in the construction trades).

Anyone involved with real estate development, such as banks and other lenders, syndicators and public companies, would all be hurt. "Foreclosures of existing commercial properties would increase markedly," said Bramson.

Analysts said a provision that would treat long-term capital gains as ordinary income could have a major impact on the stock market and new company formations. Without the capital gains incentive, investors may be less willing to put money into sound long-term ventures, which often take years to turn a profit.

And, if interest deductions on consumer loans are disallowed, people probably will pay off bank credit card debts faster and be more reluctant to take on new installment debt, such as auto loans - and that could slow the economy.

Experts said that "abusive partnerships" that were formed strictly to provide tax shelters to offset other income would be phased out.

Under the new rules, tax write-offs would be eliminated. "Investor evaluation of feasibility and viability will be based on cash flow and pre-tax income," said Stan Ross, co-managing partner of Kenneth Leventhal & Co., a Los Angeles-based accounting firm.

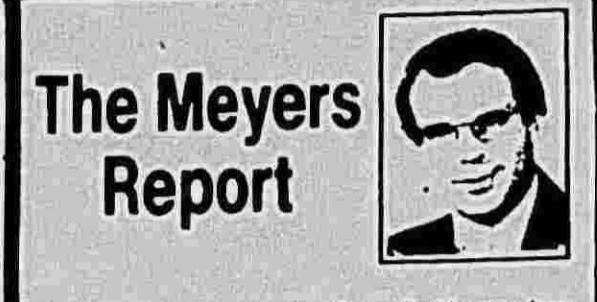

Other proposals in the Senate's tax reform package could have a significant effect on investment and real estate partnerships:

-REAL ESTATE DEPRECIATION. Schedules would be lengthened to approximately 30 years from the current 19 years. All depreciation would be straight line, not accelerated, and indexing for inflation would not be allowed.

Cutbacks in depreciation allowances would have a dampening effect on multi-family housing starts, experts said.

"This is a tax meltdown as far as housing is concerned," said Kent Colton, economist Economic forecaster Gary S. Meyers has been a lecturer and consultant to major financial institutions, government analysts, real estate developers and daily newspapers throughout the nation for the past 16 years. Readers are invited to submit comments and questions for possible use as subjects for future columns. Write Gary S. Meyers & Associates, Ltd., 20 W. Hubbard, Chicago, IL 60610.

for the National Assn. of Home Builders. He predicted that rents would climb 20 percent because of a rental apartment shortage created by a sharp drop in housing starts.

-REHAB TAX CREDITS. For rehab specialists, tax credits that inspired massive rehabilitation and recycling of older buildings would be reduced. The investment tax credit for rehab of historic structures would be cut to 20 percent from 25 percent. Tax credit for rehab of buildings more than 50 years old would drop to 10 percent, from the current range of 15 to 20 percent.

-TAX EXEMPT BONDS. "The value of tax exempt bonds is diminished because the corporate tax rate will be reduced from 46 percent to 33 percent, and the individual rate from 50 percent to 27 percent," said Bramson. "It will be tougher to raise money for anything."

Judelson said many lawmakers, in their desire to simplify the tax code and create what they see as a more equitable tax burden, cannot foresee the harmful social effects that can result from sudden changes in provisions affecting capital formation.

"Common sense should tell us that we can't suddenly pull the props out from under the current system without expecting severe economic and social dislocation," said Judelson.

"More than anything, this is an anti-renters and anti-jobs bill," said Judelson. "Severe restrictions on interest deductions for investment partnerships and elimination of accelerated depreciation on real estate would deal a severe blow to new apartment and factory construction."

"The Senate proponents are perpetrating a fraud upon the electorate, since the proposed tax bill in neither equitable, simple nor in reality a reform," said Bramson.

Schedule Summer Camp

Camp Ravenswood YMCA, located in Lake Villa, provides many different activities for youth.

During the summer a resident camp is offered, with children residing in heated cabins. There are both an outdoor pool and an indoor pool available. Children will participate in sports and games, gymnastics, arts and crafts, archery, horseback riding, etc. There will be special theme days during each session.

Camp Ravenswood also has a day camp for area children. The camp runs Monday - Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. An early drop and late pickup is available at an additional fee. Each child brings his/her own lunch and snack and the camp provides a beverage at both lunch and snack time plus a T-shirt.

Counselors are college-age students and undergo extensive staff training prior to the camp starting. There is a qualified medical staff person on the grounds at all times.

During the year the camp also provides swimming lessons. Many different memberships are available, with classes discounted for Y members. Registration for summer classes for members begins June 9 and for non-members the week of June 16. There are also many classes for adults scheduled.

Anyone interested in any of the above may stop at the pool office (located off Grass Lake Rd.), or call (312) 356-3571.

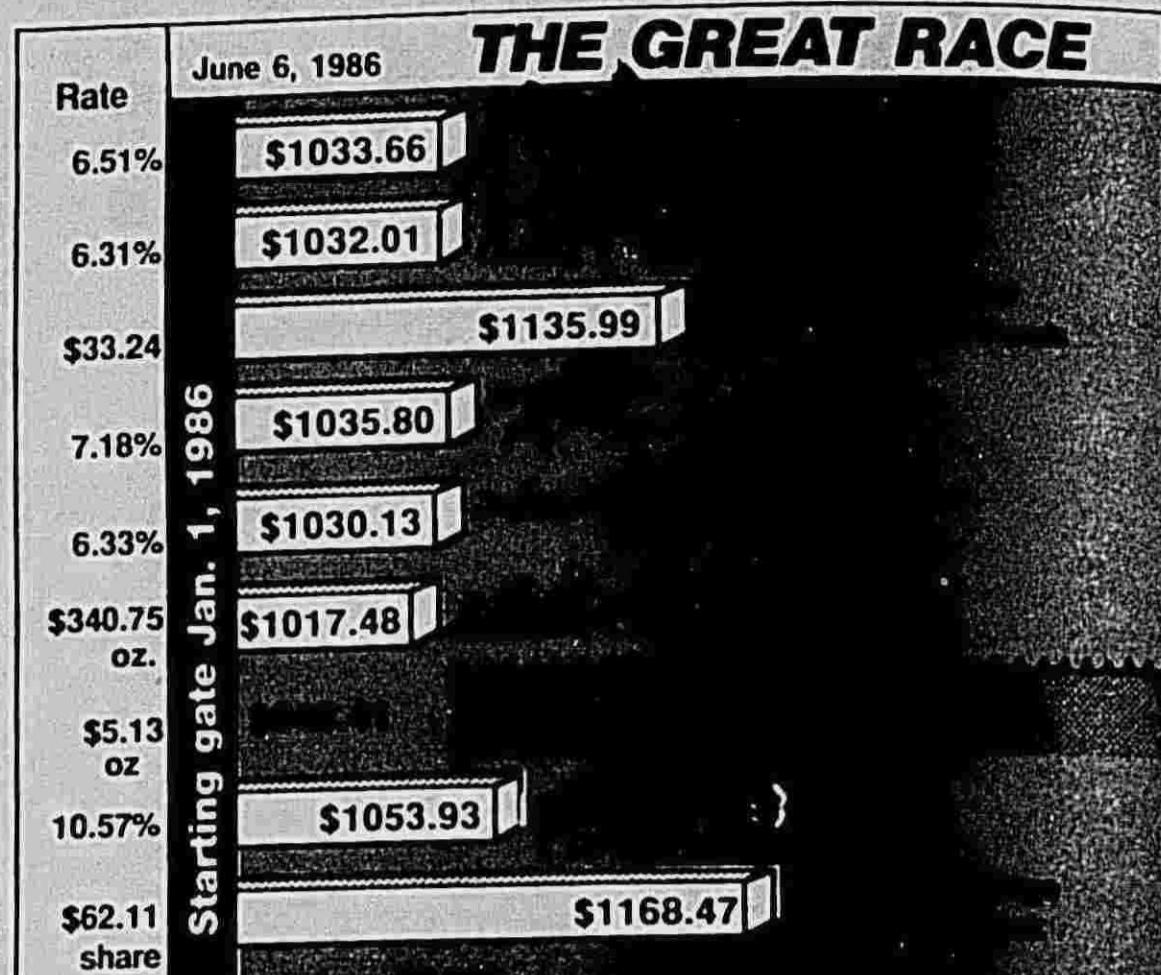

Attorney Joins Wauconda Firm

Roberta N. Levinson has joined the Wauconda law firm, Thomas W. Gooch Assoc., Ltd. Before joining the firm, Levinson was employed in the Lake County Public Defender's office in Waukegan.

She holds a dual degree from Syracuse University, New York, in political science and secondary social studies education. Levinson earned her juris doctor degree from John Marshall Law School in Chicago.

While preparing for her degree, she also worked for the U.S. Dept. of education overseeing bilingual and women's programs, as well as special education programs.

Wood Wins DAR Award

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) has awarded Roycealee J. Wood of Lake Bluff their Medal of Honor.

The award, one of two given to Illinois residents this year, was made during ceremonies at North Chicago Community High School, North Chicago.

The medal is given to native-born citizens who have shown patriotism, leadership and service to the community.

Wood does volunteer work with the Naval Sea Cadet Unit, promoting patriotism and citizenship. She also serves on the board of the North Chicago Chamber of Commerce, the Lake County Urban League, and the Edward Bradley Youth and Family Council.

Wood is president of the Lake County Council of the Navy League, a group dedicated to helping the Naval Training Center.

Among other honors, Wood has been named the Lake County YWCA Woman Educator of the Year, 1985.

Q: What's the most common mistake you notice among golfers with low handicaps, both men and women?
A: Any golfer who consistently scores well has obviously practiced and learned not only the fundamentals of the game but many of the shot making techniques that are needed. Yet too often when this same golfer plays a new course he or she becomes unsure and rarely plays with the skill demonstrated on their home course. If I could encourage the low handicapper to do one thing it would be to learn to "think" their way around any course. In order to do this they must be able to select the proper club and this can only be done if they know exactly how far they hit every club in their bag. Solving this problem once and for all is really so simple that I urge you to take the time to do it. Choose a relatively calm day when the wind will not be a factor. If the ground is a bit soft you can check distance for yourself, if not, ask a caddy or friend to mark each shot, not including the roll distance but only the distance the ball travels in the air. You need to hit 50 balls per club using a good full swing, then take the best 25 and average the distance of those 25. For example, let's say that using your eight iron your best 25 shots average 145 yards, your seven iron - 155 yards, and the six iron - 165 yards. You may then assume a change of 10 yards per iron up through the four iron but re-check the 3, 2, 1 as the increase in distance will be less in these long iron. Do the same with your woods. With this information you are prepared to select the proper club on any course. One final caution, before you tee off at an unfamiliar course take the time to check the measurements for each hole. If the scorecard does not state whether the distance is to the center of the green or only to the front edge, ask the pro for this information. If you will take the time to do this you can "think" your way around any course with a sureness and confidence that is bound to increase your enjoyment of the sport.

Staff To Name New Coaches

by STEVE PETERSON

Grayslake Community High School officials hope to name new hockey and football coaches later this month.

Football coach Tom Wittum has decided not to return to the gridiron wars. Hockey coach Dave Whale resigned earlier this year.

"We will be interviewing and hope to name the coaches after the June board of education meeting," Athletic Director Harold Jahnke said.

The board meets June 26.

Jahnke said a search committee has been formed for the football position. If a candidate from Wittum's staff is not acceptable, the school will then turn to the outside.

Wittum said a number of factors led to his resignation.

"It was just a lot of things," he said.

Wittum, a former all-pro punter for the San Francisco 49ers and a Northern Illinois University graduate, said part of the problem was the amount of time he had to spend with the underclass teams.

"It was difficult to do the varsity level justice when you have to be basically responsible for the three other teams," Wittum said.

The hiring of outside coaches part-time to coach underclass teams is part of the dilemma, the coach said.

"In talking to the administration, we got some badly needed equipment. It got to the point where it was not safe for the kids on the field," Wittum said.

Wittum, who is the assistant coach for varsity baseball, will remain at GCHS as a physical education and driver's education instructor.

Wittum compiled an 18-27 record over four years. He had two 5-4 seasons in 1982 and 1983.

Last year the Rams were 1-8.

He said he would "seriously consider" an assistant's position at another high school.

"I was not a head coach for an ego trip. I just enjoy coaching," Wittum said.

Drafted by the Chicago White Sox, Wittum played for five seasons with the 49ers. Wittum starred in football and basketball at Round Lake High School.

Carmel To Hold Final Camp Registration

Final registration for boys' summer basketball camps at Carmel High School will be held Saturday, June 14, from 9 a.m. to noon in the Carmel gymnasium lobby.

Boys currently completing grades 7 and 8 will meet Monday, June 16 to Thursday, July 3, from 1 to 3 p.m. Intermediate level cost is $50.

All boys currently in high school and those entering high school in the fall will meet from Monday, July 7 to Wednesday, July 23, from 10 a.m. and 1-2:30 p.m. Advanced level cost is $50. Boys just completing grade 8 are encouraged to attend both, the intermediate and advanced level sessions.

For more information contact Carmel basketball coach Frank Belmont at (312) 566-4080 (work) or (312) 223-3157 (home).

Golf Tournament Set

The Lake County Ladies Golf Assn. (LCLGA) presents their 15th Annual Lake County Ladies Invitational Amateur Golf Tournament on Monday, July 14, at the Foss Park Golf Course in North Chicago.

Requirements include an 18-hole permanent USGA handicap of 34 or under, with a Lake County residence and any ladies golf league affiliation, or if not a Lake County resident, an affiliation with an 18-hole Lake County Ladies Golf League Assn.

The entry fee of $30 includes LCLGA membership, green fees, prizes and dinner. No more than 140 entries will be accepted. Entries close when flights are filled (A waiting list will be kept). Last date to enter is June 25, and no refunds will be made after July 5.

By USGA rules, contestants will compete with their lowest handicap. All handicaps will be checked with your handicap chairman.

Prizes will be awarded in various categories, including low gross and low net.

The awards dinner will be held at the Sheraton on Green Bay Rd., in Waukegan, with cocktails at 5:30 p.m. and dinner at 6 p.m. Extra dinner tickets are available at $10.

Carts will be available at $18, or you may bring your own caddie.

Foss Park and Sheraton have arranged a rain date of July 28.

For more information or an entry blank, contact LCLGA, c/o Bertha Pecaro, 203 Burton, Waukegan 60085, or call (312) 623-1876.

may not be possible to completely eliminate all systemic effects from necessary eye medications but the effects may be minimized.

To reduce the amount of medication that enters the general blood circulation—follow these guidelines. After placing the medication in the eyes:

A) Keep the eyes closed for 30 to 60 seconds. This encourages absorption of the drug by your eye and minimizes drainage of the medication through your tear outflow canal into your nose.

B) Do not blink. Blinking tends to move the medication from your eye into your tear outflow canal.

C) Use your index finger to apply firm pressure for a minute or two over the junction of your lower eyelid and nose. This blocks the opening of your tear outflow canal and thus prevents or minimizes drainage.

D) Don't overdose. As with all prescription medications, it is important to follow dosage instructions carefully.

CLC Awards Writers

Several College of Lake County technical writing students have received awards for outstanding technical reports. Recognized as the winner of the Terence O'Hara Aldrich Memorial Writing Award was Joanne Snyder of Grayslake, who received a cash prize of $100.

Five other students were awarded cash prizes of $50 each for first prize within their respective entry categories. These were Heidi Forster of Mundelein, Ken Lesner of Island Lake, Mary Montes De Oca of Gurnee, Bill Herholz of Wildwood, and Daniel Glitz of Lake Zurich.

Honorable mention and certificates of merit were awarded to Walter Meyer of Lake Zurich, Jeff Thornborough of Waukegan, and Barb Pataky of Buffalo Grove.

The contest is funded by the Terence O'Hara Aldrich Memorial Fund, student activities, and the News Sun.

The jury was composed of practicing technical writers from Abbott Labs, Outboard Marine Corp., and Honeywell, Inc. For more information on the contest or CLC's technical communications program, contact Judy Rosenberg at (312) 223-6601, Ext. 550.

"Sometimes stocks, bonds and mutual funds are your best investments..."

Steven Hardin, INVEST Registered Representative at Skokie Federal, helps customers round out their savings portfolio.

"No one can argue that CDs from a federally insured financial institution should be the foundation of any savings portfolio. But once you've built that foundation, it may be worthwhile to look for alternative investments with higher growth and income potential. Sometimes stocks, bonds and mutual funds are your best investments. But how do you know? Where can you go to invest in them?"

"Most people are surprised when I tell them they can purchase stocks, bonds or mutual funds through INVEST right here at Skokie Federal. Unlike discount brokers, at INVEST, we take the time to help you understand each investment opportunity so you can better build your investment portfolio. And you'll appreciate our fees on stocks and bonds which are less than those charged by full-service brokers."

"Through INVEST I've helped many savers round out their investment portfolios and become smarter investors. That makes me proud to be a part of the Skokie Federal team."

New Stickers Must Be Displayed By June 30

New, larger renewal stickers for 1987 must be displayed on passenger car license plates expiring in June by midnight Monday, June 30. Secretary of State Jim Edgar has announced.

Edgar reminded motorists who are receiving newly designed plates this year that the sticker attached to the ID card must be placed on the new rear plate. The new stickers, measuring one inch by three inches, are royal blue and should be placed at the bottom center of the rear plate.

"New stickers are twice the size of the current stickers," Edgar said, "making them easier to read and more identifiable for police officers. In addition, owners of 1.7 million automobiles with plates beginning with the letters N through Z are receiving new plates this year, marking the end of the three-year replating program for all 5.6 million cars in Illinois."

Pre-printed renewal applications have been mailed to approximately 414,000 owners who renew their stickers in June, and 193,000 owners who will also receive the new passenger car license plates.

It is now too late to send applications by mail and guarantee delivery of the new plates and/or stickers before the June 30 deadline.

However, stickers and plates may be purchased at secretary of state facilities in Springfield and Chicago, and at more than 1,550 financial institutions, including 762 banks, 194 savings and loan associations, 24 credit unions and about 600

Chicago-area currency exchanges.

Edgar said that fiscal truck and trailer plates that have a June 30 display deadline are also being sold over the counter at the secretary of state facilities in Springfield and Chicago.

Offer Employment Assistant Programs

Two employment assistance programs are being offered this month by Catholic Charities Social Development Services.

On June 27, a career and job information expo will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., at Josephinum High School, 1500 N. Bell Ave. in Chicago. Attendees may meet and talk with employers and education counselors. There is no fee and the expo is open to all, but resumes and advance registration is required.

Beginning June 30, another four-week series of pre-employment training classes will be offered to unemployed or underemployed persons 18 years or older. Classes are held from 9 a.m. to noon on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, at Catholic Charities' Near North Center, 721 N. LaSalle Dr. in Chicago. The fee is $1 per class per person.

Participants learn how to network, complete applications, market their skills and life experiences, prepare resumes and handle job interviews. Current job leads and a work intern program is also available. Advance registration is requested.

For more information or to register for either program, call (312) 266-6100, ext. 422, 210 or 238.

Lake County Director of Court Services and Chief Judge William Block has been notified by the National Assn. of Counties in Washington D.C. that the Lake County Dept. of Court Services is the recipient of four awards for excellence in 1986.

In a statement to Gallagher, the association commended the Dept. for "ingenuity and creativity in establishing useful programs for county government."

The four winning programs were the Early Service Program, Intensive Probation, Adult Intake System and the Sex Offender Treatment Program. Two of the programs deal with adult offenders and two programs deal with juvenile offenders.

The Court Services Dept., which was formed in the spring of 1984, was honored in 1985 with three previous awards.

POLLUTION VARIANCE

The Lake County Public Works Department, on behalf of its public water supply, located in the Wildwood subdivision, in Lake County, has filed with the Pollution Control Board a petition for variance under Title IX of the Environmental Protection Act. The Petitioner requests a variance from 35 Ill. Adm. Code 602.105(a) and 602.106(b) so that Restricted Status will be lifted despite having violations concerning combined radium 226 and 228. The purpose of the petition is to be able to obtain construction and operating permits for new water main extensions.

The Environmental Protection Agency solicits the views of persons who may be adversely affected by the variance. Address any comments or inquiries to: Wayne Wiemerslage Staff Attorney, IEPA, 2200 Churchill Road, Springfield, Illinois 62706; phone 217-782-5544.

If a written objection to the variance is received by the Pollution Control Board, State of Illinois Center, 100 West Randolph, Suite 11-500, Chicago, Illinois, 60601, by June 13, 1986, the Board must conduct a hearing on the petition.

Appoint Peterson To Board

The College of Lake County's associate dean for the communication arts division has been named to the State Board of Education/Board of Education Joint Task Force on Admission Requirements and Learning Outcomes.

Russell Peterson has been named co-chairperson of the language arts committee and will also serve on the full committee which has scheduled its first meeting for June in Springfield.

The task force is designed to assist educators in the coordination of new statewide college admission standards and high school graduation requirements. Methods of evaluating high school student competence and growth in various academic areas will also be studied.

Peterson has held an administrative position at CLC for the past four years. Prior to joining the administrative staff, he was an English instructor at the college for seven years.

Participate In Parkside Beautification Project

Dan Brouillard, supervisor of conservation for the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., and staff members participated in a parkside beautification project.

The prairie burn conducted on forest preserve acreage in Gurnee was in conjunction with the forest preserve district's ongoing control burn management program. The program and efforts of the conservationist's aid in the district's endeavors to preserve and restore examples of original Lake County prairies.

Early settlers in Lake County controlled and eventually eliminated natural wildfires. Suppression of the natural environmental fires greatly affected fire-dependent native plant communities. Thus, thick growth of brush and tress (some entirely alien to the area) resulted and greatly changed native prairies.

At present, 2,500 acres in 13 different areas within forest preserves receive control burn management. Approximately half of the acreage is burned annually in either spring or fall. Strict guidelines are followed in prevention of fires spreading and to insure protection of the wildlife population and habitat.

Donald Strenger, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., stated, "Fire was a major force in shaping and maintaining presettlement vegetation. To further the restoration program, the district's conservation department had to reintroduce fire back into the landscape."

'Education Friend'

Sen. Jack Schaffer received the "Friend of Education" award from State Supt. of Education Ted Sanders during a ceremony held at the Capitol. Sen. Schaffer was honored for his outstanding contributions to the passage of education legislation designed to enhance the quality of elementary and secondary schools.

Pet Of The Week

Rob Schuman, 4, doesn't usually sit around with a parakeet on his head, but that seems to be the spot his pet, Toto, has chosen for the time being. The bird sometimes perches on 13-year-old cat, Baby's head. Mom Sue says that the cat is so gentle they don't have to worry. Rob's brother, Tim (right), 6, is amused by the whole thing. When Tim and Rob get out their toys to play, Baby and Toto want to join the fun. Toto sometimes flies around the room in Star Wars spaceships. Tim and Rob also have an aquarium with two crayfish, two outside cats, five bunnies and a horse. Tim attends Bristol School. If you would like to see your pet in the Pet Of The Week spotlight, just contact the editor of this newspaper. —Photo by Cindy Kujak.

Flaws In Age Raise Or Still Not Tough Enough?

by GLORIA DAVIS

More than one Wisconsin legislator (and many citizens) are concerned about the language it took to get the 21-year-old drinking bill passed.

Reports have it that the assembly received the amended version of Senate Bill 1 just minutes before they voted on it. Since those amendments comprise 30 confusing typewritten pages, one would have to assume that either our state representatives all have taken a super speed reading course, or that the hour was late and they were hard pressed to pass anything that called for a 21-year-old drinking age.

Some legislators like State Sen. Joseph Andrea (D-Kenosha), though unhappy with some of the stricter drunken driving penalties, feel that getting the law passed was the first big step, and amending the law later will take care of reservations.

State Rep. Cloyd Porter (R-Burlington) has been vocal about the problems he can see arising from the mandatory time lapse before convicted drunken drivers can apply for an occupational drivers license, especially in rural areas that do not have public transportation.

The law calls for a 15-day wait to make application for the first offense, a 60-day wait for the second and a 90-day wait for the third. And the past driving record can dictate whether or not one will be given at all.

People can possibly lose their jobs because they can't get to work and a blow-up in the unemployment lines and on the welfare roles could ensue.

Of course future amendments are possible, but what of those arrested in the meantime? That cannot possibly even see a beginning until the legislature convenes again in January.

The heavier penalties are bound to make more people take their chances in court. Some see the added court case influx amounting to 19,000 new hearings a year.

Think not only of the legal pandemonium resulting, but of the increased costs to the taxpayers, for as we know it costs money on both sides to go to court.

Denis Moran, director of the state's court system, voiced his concern on the increased cost because the bill puts even first offenders, whose alcohol blood content reads .2 or more, in the criminal court system, saying, "The bill did not mention where the judges to hear these cases are coming from."

He added that the breathalyzer reading is not always apparent until the charges are filed, which could cause a lot of confusion since first offenders under .2 will be handled in local courts.

He also said he was concerned about the part of the bill calling for all those convicted of driving while intoxicated to spend 20 hours in public service.

"This will fall on the local municipality for administration and most are not set up for this, not to mention the insurance liability involved," said Moran.

The bill's calling for both parties to agree on the community service seems to some to be a bit mute. What is to dictate when and if the convicted party will agree at all.

Kenosha County Dist. Atty. Robert Zapf, who admitted he hadn't had a chance to fully analyze the bill, said that moving such cases from the local municipality to the circuit court system would have a definite impact in Kenosha County.

We saw an increase in court cases in the last penalty increase, so I expect there will be more now," he added.

Now that the legislators feel that they have put a large crimp in the teen traffic from Wisconsin's four surrounding states that have also enacted the 21-year-old law, the lack of particular language in Senate Bill 1 could bring about the reverse of that problem.

The first bill presented had an on premises section that allowed for local ordinances giving minors on premise permission.

This bill went by the wayside. The one that was passed allows no on premises privileges in Wisconsin and those convicted must face a trial.

The difficulty in enforcing the law in this case is understandable. Constant checking and patrolling a bar to see if some of those mandatory cokes have suddenly changed to rum and coke could be a real problem.

Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Minnesota have laws that are silent on the matter, also depending on local ordinances and discretion.

Some foresee teens from Wisconsin pouring over its borders towards less strict taverns in surrounding states, not only to drink but just for socializing.

Irene Bahr, chief of the Illinois Liquor Commission says, "A lax bar owner risks losing his liquor license in such cases. And there's nothing new in the fact that some money-hungry bar owners will serve minors no matter what the laws are."

More holes can be found in the part of Senate Bill 1 that states that minors can be charged if a breathalyzer test reads more than .00 for their blood alcohol count. This also is understandable if the purpose is to state that minors are not allowed to drink at all.

Experts claim that getting a .00 blood alcohol reading is almost impossible since cough medicine and even a large intake of sugar will raise the blood alcohol count past the legal limit.

Volo Bog Announces Summer Schedule

Volo Bog Natural Area has a schedule of free family programs help make the most of those summer days.

The following activities have been scheduled for the summer months:

On Sunday, June 22, at 1 p.m., there will be a summer solstice celebration and annual meeting of Friends of Volo Bog. Subscribers, friends of members, and others interested in the betterment of Volo Bog are invited to attend. RSVP by Wednesday, June 18. Solar food, tours, games and other surprises await.

On Sunday, June 29 at 1 p.m., bring binoculars and field guides for a look at brightly colored orioles and bog orchids.

A guided walk through the bog will reveal a variety of "patriotic" colored flowers, at 1 p.m. on Sunday, July 6.

Bring binoculars or telescopes for a look at the summer stars, planets and constellations at 8:30 p.m., Friday, July 11. Pre-registration is required.

Warblers, wrens and woodpeckers will be the focus at 9 a.m., Saturday, July 19. Bring binoculars and field guides.

Come for a look at the prairie and bog, Sunday, July 20 at 1 p.m. Discover its plant life and legends.

On Saturday, July 26 at 7 p.m., visit the largest summer maternity colony of the little brown bat in Illinois. Discover that bats are beautiful and beneficial to mankind. Pre-registration is required and participants are urged to bring insect repellent and lawn chairs.

Bring binoculars to view sparrows and starlings at 1 p.m., Sunday, July 27.

The chickadee will be featured at 9 a.m., Saturday, Aug. 2. Bring binoculars.

Bring binoculars again on Sunday, Aug. 10 at 1 p.m. for "Finch Frolic."

Honkers and quackers will be "doing their thing" Saturday, Aug. 23 at 9 a.m. Bring binoculars.

Saturday, Aug. 30, bring binoculars for "Hawk Watch."

Discover the blossoms of late summer in the bog and prairie at 1 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 31.

The second annual photo contest and exhibit will run Sept. 1 through Oct. 5. Student and adult photographers are invited to submit a favorite Illinois nature scene, wildlife, or plant life photograph for contest and exhibit. Black and white or color 8X10 matted prints must be delivered to the visitor center no later than Aug. 25. Prizes will be awarded. For more information call (815) 344-1294. Visitor hours at the Volo

Bog, June 1 through Aug. 31, are: trail - open daily 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.; visitor center - open Thursday through Sunday from 9 a.m. to noon, and 1 to 3 p.m.

For more information, or to register for programs, call (815) 344-1294.

Will Attend Conference

Steve Colby, president, and Saralynn Reedy, executive director, will be among the hundreds of delegates representing 460 local Big Brothers/Big Sisters Agencies across the country at the Big Brothers/Big Sisters of America (BB/BSA) National Conference in Clearwater Beach, Fla., June 17-20, at the Holiday Inn Surfside. Workshops and training sessions on all aspects of BB/BS service will be held throughout the week.

Highlights will include a keynote address by Donna M. Alvarado, director of ACTION, the primary federal volunteer organization, who will speak on "Volunteerism in the Public Sector," Tuesday, June 17, noon to 2 p.m.

Lynn Swann, ABC-TV sports commentator and BB/BSA national spokesman, will be a special guest at the National Awards Banquet, Thursday evening, June 19, during which BB/BSA volunteer leaders and benefactors will be honored. Receiving special recognition will be the Big Brother and Big Sister of the Year, two volunteers selected for their exemplary service from a nationwide field of candidates.

Since 1983, Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County has provided school-aged children with one-to-one guidance and friendship of caring adult volunteers. Currently, 75 children are being served, but 60 are on the waiting list. Those interested in volunteering as a Big Brother or a Big Sister are urged to call (312) 360-0770 for further information.

Award Degrees

Several area residents received degrees from Augustana College, Rock Island, at the 126th annual commencement on June 1. Those awarded degrees at the ceremony held in Carver Center were: Karen E. Christensen and John E. Juergensen, Crystal Lake; Daniel Rehling, Gurnee; Daniel J. Ropa, Lake Villa; Steven V. Gutierrez, McHenry; Michelle Morrissey, North Chicago; James D. Ryan, Spring Grove; and Shawn E. McKay, Wauconda.

The ad for Chandler's Family Fitness of 5/29/86 should have had an expiration date of 6/5/86. Lakeland Newspapers regrets the error.

Stopa Dies At 80

Walter Stopa, 80, owner and founder of the Wilmot Ski Hills, Wilmot, died at his home on June 7, following a long illness.

Stopa, who was a engineering graduate of the Ill. Inst. of Technology, first rented a parcel of land just south of Wilmot in 1938 and started the ski hills.

Stopa, was a pioneer in the skiing industry in more than one way as he had one of the first ski tows and was also one of the first in the business to experiment in making man-made snow.

Today, Wilmot Mt. Ski Area employs 450 part-time and 25 full-time employees, to help run one of the most popular northern Illinois ski areas, as well as one of the best ski schools world-wide.

Funeral arrangements for Stopa, who is survived by his wife, Eugenia, his three sons, his daughter Diane and six grandchildren, were expected to take place early this week.

The ski hills will continue to be, and have for years been, overseen by Stopa's son-in-law Michael Reese, and the three Stopa sons, Conrad, John and Walter, Jr.

BUYING A HOME SATELLITE DISH IS COSTLIER THAN YOU THINK.

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be limited to just premium services. Many basic cable channels like ESPN, MTV and CNN have announced their intentions to scramble signals.

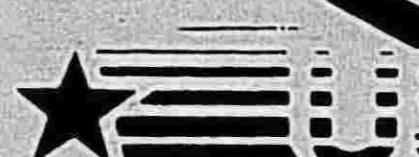

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

Make your decision based on the facts.

Flaws In Age Raise

The bill has become law since Gov. Anthony Earl signed it in Hudson, Minn. on June 7, to the chagrin of Wisconsinites who didn't buy Earl's reason for signing the bill out of state. The governor claimed that officials and citizens from Hudson had visited the special session and strongly urged the bill's passing.

One suggestion is to change those figures to .01 since one beer will raise the blood alcohol level higher than that and that reading will allow for the legal intake of medicines and sugar, etc.

On the other side of the coin, we have just as many people that are more than satisfied with Wisconsin's drinking laws, and others who think they could be stricter.

They say that drunk driving "is a crime, should be treated as such, especially when those vehicles being driven by drivers in that state are potential murder weapons." These people feel that additional costs are negligible, adding, "the politicians can get those funds by eliminating some of the waste in government."

But the biggest question of all is why couldn't our legislators pass a clean, simple bill that simply called for a raise in the drinking age? Could it be, with elections on the horizon they needed all those amendments so they could come back from Madison and explain to its adversaries, "They had me against the wall but this is what I did for you!"

Moose To Sponsor June 22 Auction

Catholic Charities Senior Group Service Dept. will sponsor an auction on Sunday, June 22, from noon until 8 p.m., at the Waukegan Moose Lodge.

This event is being sponsored by all eight Catholic Charities Senior Centers which are located throughout Lake County and by Waukegan Moose Lodge 706 as part of its civic affairs program.

Numerous items are being donated by concerned businesses throughout the county and will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. Proceeds from this event will be used to help defray the cost of operating all the senior centers, the Senior Employment Program and the Home-Delivered Meals Program, which benefit thousands of senior citizens throughout the county.

The auction is open to the general public and the seniors are looking forward to a grand time. Numerous food items will be provided by the Women of the Moose for a nominal charge as well as a cash bar.

Entrance tickets are available for a $1 donation at any Catholic Charities Senior Center, Waukegan Moose Lodge and at Catholic Charities, or they may be purchased at the door.

The Waukegan Moose Lodge is located at 2755

Congratulations to the past Webelos who earned the following badges: Richie Castillo, showman, two year pin, derby patch and bike rodeo segment; David Komperda, third year pin, bike rodeo segment and camp fire segment; Joe Splitt, two year pin, bike rodeo segment and camp fire segment; and Jason Paulus, third year pin, bike rodeo segment and camp fire segment.

Congratulations to the following Bears for their bok, David Clauson, John Cole, Kenneth Mattson, Joseph Rohde, Michele Skrypt and David Wechselberger. Congratulations to you all!

Just a special note to say thank you to Cyndy Vandrusch, who sent home with the fifth grade students, a special booklet which represented their art work from the third grade to the fifth grade. What a nice way to remember their intermediate and primary years as they advance into junior high. I think most parents were impressed with their child's special booklet.

As mentioned in my previous column, the first through fifth grades were presented with their own awards at a very special program held at school. It was really nice to see so many parents in the audience in the afternoon. Unfortunately, the fourth grade results are not available at this time, but will be published when they become available.

Congratulations to Mrs. Coia's first grade class, which was presented with special awards: Kendra Charts, Tara Christopoulos, Brian Dembinski, Erica Gallegos, Paul Grob, Neil Hansen, Cindy Jones, Joey Moiser, Mike Prelaski, David Wallsteadt, Danny Wiegel and Sandy Weibel. Effort awards were presented to Dale Kitto, Erica Gallegos and David Wallsteadt. Perfect attendance awards were presented to Danny Wiegel, Mike Prelaski and Erica Gallegos. Kendra Charts was presented with the music award. Art awards were presented to Dale Kitto, Charles Spencer, Curtis Mummer and Tara Christopoulos. The following students received spelling awards: Kendra Charts, Tara Christopoulos, Brian Dembinski, Larry Edelman, Kristin Franzen, Paul Grob, Renee Hackney, Neil Hansen, Cindy Jones, Jennifer Lentine, Joey Moiser, Mike Prelaski, Becky Sheldon, Sandy Weibel and Dann Wiegel. Speech awards were presented to Kelley Brausam, Jerry Oleksy, Matt Fleming and Jamie Brausam. Special student awards were presented to Sandy Benes, Lisa Priller, Matt Fleming and Jamie Brausam. Congratulations to all you second graders.

The fourth quarter honor roll for the 1985-86 eighth grade students is as follows: Michael Campbell, Brian Fehrenbacher, William Frohmeier, Jennifer Harris, Tami Johnson, Christopher Varno, Brian Weeks, Carl Campbell, Richard Cheter-

Danny Wiegel and Neil Hansen. Math awards were presented to Tara Christopoulos, Paul Grob, Neil Hansen, Cindy Jones, Dale Kitto, Jennifer Lentine, Joey Moiser, Mike Prelaski, Ben Friel, Josh Walsh, Rock Welch, and Danny Wiegel. Congratulations to all you first graders!

Mrs. Larson's second grade class received the following awards: Jump the Brook-first place to Tammy Mazzuca and Marc Fechner, second place to Marge Klepacki and Jeff LaForge, and third place to Sandy Benes and Chris Grob. Jump Rope, first place to Jamie Brausam and Ryan Jacobson, second place to Kari Fehrenbacher and Chris Grob, and third place to Tammy Mazzuca and Chris Jarrod. Obstacle course-first place to Lois Marreale and Marc Fechner, second place to Sandy Benes and Chris Dogan, and third place to Marge Klepacki and Jeremy Gardin. Spelling awards were presented to Jamie Brausam, Sarah Haron, Matt Fleming, Lisa Priller and John Weibel.

Math awards were presented to Matt Fleming, Kelley Brausam, Jon Utinans, Jim Schmehl, Tammy Mazzuca, Colin Dent and March Fechner. Brandie Wennestrom received a perfect attendance award. Art awards were presented to Marc Fechner, first place, Jamie Brausam, second place and Saray Harmon, third place. Speech awards were presented to Kelley Brausam, Jerry Oleksy, Matt Fleming and Jamie Brausam. Special student awards were presented to Sandy Benes, Lisa Priller, Matt Fleming and Jamie Brausam. Investigating The Death Of Twin Lakes Man

The body of a 31-year-old Twin Lakes Man, Vince D. Boyd, was found in a car parked at the Last Resort Tavern in Camp Lake, at 12:03 p.m., on June 8.

According to the Kenosha County Sheriff's Dept.'s report, Boyd and a friend, James A. Gibson, 30, Trevor, had been partying and went to sleep in Gibson's car.

Boyd was found dead when a third party, an unidentified female, went to wake the two up on Sunday.

Gibson later went to the Westosha Emergency Medical Center in Silver Lake on his own. He was then hospitalized for treatment.

An autopsy was done on the body of Boyd but reports from laboratories had not been returned by press time. Lt. Lee Ormson of the sheriff's department said that his department had received reports that the two had been drinking heavily and possibly ingesting cocaine. The case is still under investigation by authorities.

Ebb Tide Answers

The weight myth.

Engineering studies have proven that a waterbed poses no problem to a properly constructed building. The crucial factor in building stress considerations is pounds per square foot. A waterbed weighs less per square foot than a TV set or a refrigerator.

BRING US YOUR SKILLS

Our growing group of Illinois and Wisconsin Newspapers has several opportunities open now in a fast-paced, exciting field.

Retail/Display Advertising Sales

Lakeland Newspapers is looking for a uniquely qualified person for our sales department. The applicant must be a self-motivator, highly organized and very dependable. This job will involve sales calls outside the office.

The applicant must demonstrate skills in interpersonal communications, creativity and personal responsibility. The applicant will work with a minimum amount of supervision. Since this position involves making contacts outside the main office, a car is necessary and mileage compensation will be made.

This job is not an easy one, but if you are persistent, outgoing, dependable, responsible and organized, you will be a success.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr 19) Just when some of you Lamb's said bah to romance, someone special comes along to play a love song on your heartstrings. Go ahead. Make the melody a duet.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Love scores a bulls-eye for Taurians who thought they'd never make cow-eyes at anyone else again. This new relationship has great potential.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Friends may misunderstand your need to make some changes. Give them full explanations, but resist any suggestions that you consider delaying your moves.

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) A change of scenery could be the best medicine for those aching egos which were battered by some recent disappointments. Take a trip and return refreshed.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) Money matters need attention. Since Big bills belong on pelicans and flamingos, not on the Lion's desk, resist the urge to splurge until accounts are paid.

Virgo (Aug. 22-Sept. 22) Plan summertime get-togethers with lith and kin. You'll create wonderful memories to keep you warm when winter sets in. Send out invitations now.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) You can defuse a potentially panicky situation with your ability to create harmony out of chaos. You benefit by the changed attitude of others.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Be careful when handling mechanical objects. This includes anything with a motor. A business matter requires more time for study. Don't rush into it.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Hidden, weak spots could jeopardize important relationships. Find them and strengthen them. Weak spots also turn up in material things. Look for them.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Close up emotional gaps. This is a good time to get everyone together. A happy occasion encourages everyone to renew old relationships.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You're not alone. You're just way out ahead on the winning track. Eager allies will join up with you once you've crossed the finish line in triumph.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) A pesky health problem may recur. This time don't wait so long to have it corrected. A family member seeks a long delayed reconciliation. Be receptive.
